The Pact - January 14, 2025, 4:06 am

With 2024 the hottest year on record and Los Angeles in flames marking the beginning of 2025, are we still saying that there is no climate emergency. Will the results of the US election become concerning for this reason?

https://www.lemonde.fr/en/opinion/article/2025/01/11/climate-trump-risks-dragging-the-planet-into-a-catastrophic-spiral_6736940_23.html

I don't claim to know what the TRUTH is at all because reading about protecting the environment is BORING.

But having to put in insurance claims for the damage to my house made me think about climate change not the media.

There is evidence of arson in California, so while I think that we should do more to reduce pollution, I don't see an emergency or catastrophe.

I tune out climate activists like Just Stop Oil when they litter plastic refuse during protests.

There is no climate emergency. None. It's a scam. If you're lucky enough maybe one day it will truly be exposed and you can stop being duped.

Climate Change is WEATHER. Changes all the fucking time.

me when an arsonist starts fires and is hardly charged with probation in a state that cut the budgets for firefighters/police, has already refused help from new york fire-depts and is currently in the process of refusing help from oregon fire-depts by 'emissions testing' failing their trucks you literally can not make this shit up, also will not engage in or conduct controlled burns of downed brush, look up a map of wildfires in LA from 1878 - 2020 during the months of December - February (uh oh gang I wonder what we'll find) wait wait wait wait wait wait

don't the trees normally burn in fires? lol it must have rained or something

uhhh what else what else

federal government still leaving north carolina without a dime of fema help but is ready to pay %100 of the cost of the california disaster uhhhhhhhh hold on let me think remember when california voted for Proposition 1 ? That 7.5 billion dollar water bond program to fund water infrastructure projects and then not a single storage container or piece of infrastructure was built, geez where did that money go instead cali just made a 50 million dollar deal with the DOJ for legal battles against upcoming federal policies and protection for immigrants against deportation

uhhhhhh what else

gavin newsom is stealing fire relief donations through act blue via his website (act blue manages the donations)

uhhhhhhhh what else

GUYS PLEASE! PLEASE GUYS! PLEASE!!!!!!

YOU GOTTA SEARCH FOR CLIMATE CHANGE MORE GUYS!!!!!! PLEEASE!!!!!!

alright that's all I care to post about the great state of california one day The Pact you will wake up and go "hmmmmmm, maybe that black cat guy knew a thing or two about a thing or two"

and then proceed to stop believing in climate change

(They really want you to believe in climate change really bad) wait till you find out which houses had smart meters and which ones didn't burn down ???

alright that's enough you can go back to ur climate change

The current fires a suspected to be started by arson, however climate change absolutely did help fuel those fires, you people really think that just because someone started the fire by committing arson that magically the drought, dry conditions, dead grass, limbs, dry trees, etc didn't fuel it? this is literally basic stuff.

And since we are on the whole AI stuff again

AI Quote:

Yes, climate change is real. It refers to long-term changes in temperature, precipitation patterns, and other atmospheric conditions on Earth, largely driven by human activities, especially the burning of fossil fuels, deforestation, and other industrial processes. The scientific consensus is clear that climate change is occurring and has significant environmental, social, and economic impacts.

AI Quote:

Even if a wildfire is started by human actions like arson, climate change still plays a significant role in influencing the fire's behavior, intensity, and spread. Here's how:

Drier Conditions: Climate change has increased the frequency and severity of droughts, which results in drier vegetation. Dry vegetation acts as "fuel" for fires, allowing them to spread more quickly and become harder to control, even if the fire was initially started by arson.

Higher Temperatures: Rising temperatures from climate change increase the overall risk of wildfires. Hotter conditions dry out forests and grasslands, creating a more conducive environment for fires to ignite and grow, regardless of their cause.

Extended Fire Seasons: Climate change has lengthened wildfire seasons. Hotter, drier conditions persist for longer periods, increasing the window of time when fires can start, spread, and become devastating.

So, while arson might trigger a fire, climate change can amplify its impact by creating the conditions for more severe and widespread wildfires.

I seriously don't understand how people that think like this, know how to tie their shoe laces.... Absolutely mental... The Earth is "climate change"... There is no god damn thing as "global warming", That's a bullsh!t con-mans game for money. That's it.. Also, who the hell thinks that the election results are "concerning" ?? ?? Everyone IS HAPPY. Only the libtard degenerates are the ones who cry about it. and frankly? in less than 48 hours them retards become absolutely irrelevant. So it doesn't matter.

Man, sometimes I wonder how people manage basic survival with the way they think. The Earth is always changing,, that's what it does. ALWAYS WILL.... The idea that "global warming" is more like a business model than real science at this point stands true and strong.....Follow the money, and you'll see who's really profiting.. But we all know who those are....

Instead of crying over it, maybe it's time to break out of the loop and start thinking for yourselves... I CANNOT WAIT, for Trump to be in and start his thing.. This is what the VAST majority of America voted for. in 5 hours FLAT... ? The Irony? It's the same world wide. Everywhere you go, you find Trump support. EVERYWHERE.... The circus ends in less than 48 hours... I'll be firing off a few shots at noon tomorrow in the sky to celebrate the death of the liberal party in America. Thank god... It's going to trickle down to us. PP is already being a biatch, and saying (essentially) he's going to mimic Trumps decisions.

Want a fucking cookie? you clearly don't know shit about firearms if you think 150 acres is safe shooting into the sky depending on the caliber. and clearly you can't even get the name of where you supposedly live correct either.

I am straight, but since you seem to like the idea of another guy doing that to you might I suggest you go to a gay bar and see what you can find.

Do all of us gun owners a favor and turn your firearms in we don't need more negligent gun owners in this country.

Your whole reply to the pact was like the crying of a 5 year old and you resort to childish behavior when you get called out on you admitting that you are going to do reckless shit.

You're one of those liberals looking for a fight eh? Listen salty,, If I where I you, I'd show a bit more respect, and a little less ineptitude.. Cause all you're doing here, is showing the world how you chain yourself to a tree, or throw oil on a painting. NOBODY likes a liberal bitch.. The ONLY thing that's made me take the slightest interest in climate change is my city flooding several times in recent years. MASSIVE tree branches from the neighbours falling on my roof a couple of times and I don't have a landlord I had to insurance claim and get the roof fixed and half my study was flooded. NOTHING like those things has EVER happened to me before. Plus all the fifty billion wildfires in the news all of a sudden the last few years and so much flood damage in the country I'm living in multiple incidents. This stuff has never ever ever happened here during my lifetime before and I'm only six months or so younger than Omni. That's my issue. Not the media although a number of people in this thread are actually just parroting right wing media anyway tbh.

49% of the 63% that actually bothered to vote compared to 48% for Kamala is not the VAST majority of America. And that was with Elon giving random Americans a million dollars each in the swing states. But this isn't some Anti-Trump thread it's just I can't find anything that he's proposed to do about the environment.

It is all solved. The insurance company paid out and then I found someone to fix it much cheaper than they thought it would be so the rest is sitting in my bank account still and my roof and everything is repaired. No there is no revoking I'm not sure what this means. But anyway it's a genuine claim that was assessed by their assessor so no.
