One of the most beautiful videos I've seen.

Thank you for posting this. I shall watch this video as soon as I get back to the computer.

I hope it's similar to the "tiny blue dot" video. I love to get perspective on how small we are on a universal scale. It's also a bit depressing because I don't want my existence to be just a random thing.

Ah great, another video for me to watch and then ponder if anything really matters ?

It's such a significant part of history I'm shocked it isn't in this video.

What the hell did he eat for 23 days? The wolf-dogs that he slayed? Rotisserie wolf-dogs?

Nice post last night, I enjoyed the commentary - had it on in the background for a while

Well thanks, Now it's time to go find something that makes my existence not so pointless.

It is crazy to think about though. Eventually it will all be gone. It seems like the only way out is clinging to the hopes of multiverses and black 'holes' as a key.

Hopefully they figure it out, I'm just excited McDonalds has a couple of great coupons right now.
