

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: Drone in NYC - Another day, another drone

Hackers - January 22, 2025, 2:48 pm

Just a clip out of NYC recently

<https://streamable.com/uq6y6t>

Anyone going orb hunting tonight?

I'll go out in a few mins. If I see something cool I'll post but pretty cloudy.

Related Threads:

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=6288816>

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=6287026>

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=6290272>

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=6290218>

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=6290212>

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=6290269>

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=6289395>

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=6289436>

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=6289772>

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=6289874>

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=6290251>

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=6290246>

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=6290175>

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=6290266>

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=6289303>

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=6287576>

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=6288369>

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=6286460>

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=6288034>

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=6286575>

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=6287577>

Pr0m3th3us - January 22, 2025, 2:55 pm

Its all a ploy by the Parks Department to get people to go outside more and experience nature. I refuse to be intoxicated in public jane - January 22, 2025, 3:33 pm

drone lives matter lmao

Pr0m3th3us - January 22, 2025, 3:51 pm

(Jan 22, 2025 04:33 PM)jane Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) drone lives matter lmao
omg so true. #DLM

Obstinato - January 22, 2025, 4:32 pm

(Jan 22, 2025 05:14 PM)Lowkey Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) This is why the government can't let this shit be public and has to cover up so much shit.

Mad props to the CIA tho. Love you fellas (hate you)

People just start losing their minds when there's an ounce of possibility that aliens and other things exist. LOSING it.

Government flashes a few lights from a drone and moves them over some single boomer womans house, puts out a few clips filmed on a toaster for the people making their daily content money on the elon dick rider accounts, holds a press conference about aliens where they use the words "extraterrestrial" and "non-human" twice in a run-on sentence and now it's 'Monsters on Maple Street'.

All a sudden nobody gives a shit about politics or anything that would be important.
(Not that we aren't constantly being barraged with anything and everything all of the time on our phones and shit)
But still

Spooks start coming out of the woodwork when one of their own whistle-blowers blows the aliens in front of a senate hearing nobody bats an eye.

Twitter has a field day, retards with access to chatgpt who think it's going to let them in on any black site tier information get an erection when correcting non-tin foil folks, and the delusional crowd who thinks gnomes are real use these moments as a foot in the door like "see if aliens are real gnomes are real" and just holy fuck the chain reaction is painful.

It's painful.

This is no shade to you nodes I think you're swell.

Sometimes I be hating the ggovernment but then sometimes I'm like.....yeah maybe it's needed (still hate em tho)

But how do you really feel.

I think its the Gnomes in their ships scouting out new suitable land for their mushroom kingdoms since the CIA started injecting 5G into our waterways and spoiled the land.

Pr0m3th3us - January 22, 2025, 5:07 pm

(Jan 22, 2025 05:14 PM)Lowkey Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) This is why the government can't let this shit be public and has to cover up so much shit.

Mad props to the CIA tho. Love you fellas (hate you)

People just start losing their minds when there's an ounce of possibility that aliens and other things exist. LOSING it.

Government flashes a few lights from a drone and moves them over some single boomer womans house, puts out a few clips filmed on a toaster for the people making their daily content money on the elon dick rider accounts, holds a press conference about aliens where they use the words "extraterrestrial" and "non-human" twice in a run-on sentence and now it's 'Monsters on Maple Street'.

All a sudden nobody gives a shit about politics or anything that would be important.
(Not that we aren't constantly being barraged with anything and everything all of the time on our phones and shit)
But still

Spooks start coming out of the woodwork when one of their own whistle-blowers blows the aliens in front of a senate hearing nobody bats an eye.

Twitter has a field day, retards with access to chatgpt who think it's going to let them in on any black site tier information get an erection when correcting non-tin foil folks, and the delusional crowd who thinks gnomes are real use these moments as a foot in the door like "see if aliens are real gnomes are real" and just holy fuck the chain reaction is painful.

It's painful.

This is no shade to you nodes I think you're swell.

Sometimes I be hating the ggovernment but then sometimes I'm like.....yeah maybe it's needed (still hate em tho)

Wait garden gnomes are not real?

(Jan 22, 2025 05:32 PM)Obstinato Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) But how do you really feel.

I think its the Gnomes in their ships scouting out new suitable land for their mushroom kingdoms since the CIA started injecting 5G into our waterways and spoiled the land.

YES! Iv been saying this since 2002!!!

(Jan 22, 2025 05:33 PM)Lowkey Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I love the government. Thank you government. They know you are lying, that's why you have to say "i hate the FEDS" its reverse reverse psychology. 70% of the time it works 100% of the time.

Hackers - January 22, 2025, 5:18 pm

(Jan 22, 2025 05:32 PM)Obstinato Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) But how do you really feel.

I think its the Gnomes in their ships scouting out new suitable land for their mushroom kingdoms since the CIA started injecting 5G into our waterways and spoiled the land.

I'll take gnome mushroom kingdoms if they're friendly!

The Pact - February 2, 2025, 10:54 pm

(Jan 22, 2025 05:14 PM)Lowkey Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) This is why the government can't let this shit be public and has to cover up so much shit.

Sometimes I be hating the ggovernment but then sometimes I'm like.....yeah maybe it's needed (still hate em tho)

Yeah this is why when my son asked me if I thought Trump's promise to release all the JFK, MLK, RBK stuff was good I said Idk. Because maybe people will go crazy idk. Idk why they've been hiding it all.

And there MUST be aliens. We can't be all there is in the universe!

But maybe they aren't technologically advanced like Sci Fi at all. They're probably just like green giraffes or something.

Radi - February 3, 2025, 8:29 am

So I have seen these drones in the sky all the time but only during night time and they just sit there for over an hour or more and then they leave. Like is it just a new way of monitoring us like a big brother type of show or are they looking for something or someone specific since I've heard some wild theories on tiktok being spread. I just want them to tell us already since its annoying also hearing an increasing amount of helicopters flying overhead at all hours especially at night.

RootRXXT - February 3, 2025, 9:57 am

Gov conspiracies... they are out to get us... lol

Hackers - February 3, 2025, 1:10 pm

(Feb 3, 2025 09:29 AM)Radi Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) So I have seen these drones in the sky all the time but only during night time and they just sit there for over an hour or more and then they leave. Like is it just a new way of monitoring us like a big brother type of show or are they looking for something or someone specific since I've heard some wild theories on tiktok being spread. I just want them to tell us already since its annoying also hearing an increasing amount of helicopters flying overhead at all hours especially at night.

Keep posting about this online and on HF.

Myself and a few others are tracking the fleets a bit in our own areas.

Keep an eye out for the more anomalous orbs that can appear too.

Radi - February 3, 2025, 3:07 pm

(Feb 3, 2025 02:10 PM)nodes Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Keep posting about this online and on HF.

Myself and a few others are tracking the fleets a bit in our own areas.

Keep an eye out for the more anomalous orbs that can appear too.

So like I've seen these anomalous orbs on videos but in person I have not seen a single one. I've seen some sort of orange circular light but was super far up but nothing that was moving rapidly nor in random directions. The only things I've seen is the drones like a plethora of them that also hover like 100 or so feet above the highway for the last two weeks or so and just stand there it's really hard to take a photo of them due to moving car and it being dark so you can't really focus in on it.

Hackers - February 3, 2025, 3:12 pm

(Feb 3, 2025 04:07 PM)Radi Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) So like I've seen these anomalous orbs on videos but in person I have not seen a single one. I've seen some sort of orange circular light but was super far up but nothing that was moving rapidly nor in random directions. The only things I've seen is the drones like a plethora of them that also hover like 100 or so feet above the highway for the last two weeks or so and just stand there it's really hard to take a photo of them due to moving car and it being dark so you can't really focus in on it.

The orange could be anomalous, BUT Mars is out in the sky so if you are seeing a small orange dot/circle high up then it's likely Mars. If it's larger than the stars and clearly closer, then yeah it could be an orb. It just depends, but definitely try to snap a photo or use a star app if you can. A lot of people falsely report Mars as an orb unfortunately.

For drones, I 100% know what you are talking bout.

In my experience they often don't meet the criteria of a "drone" in size, shape, and weight. They often do not follow FAA regulations.

And yet they show up in my neighborhood every night. Less now than they were in October/November/December, but they still show up.

The hovering for hours, without moving an inch is what people don't seem to understand.

We see these things as low as right above rooftops, and as high as the clouds. The amount of energy required to hover for so long, and without even moving in high winds is insane.

People are like "oh it's just a drone" without realizing the physical abilities the craft would need to even do that for 1 hour, let alone multiple hours of flight paths in between its hover phases.

I'll shoot ya a message - stay in touch.

Try to snap videos or photos if you can, but it's the same everywhere. They only come at night and the light pollution + surroundings in my area are rough as it is, but then on top of it it's near impossible to focus the damn things because of the blinkers.

Radi - February 3, 2025, 3:26 pm

(Feb 3, 2025 04:12 PM)nodes Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) The orange could be anomalous, BUT Mars is out in the sky so if you are seeing a small orange dot/circle high up then it's likely Mars. If it's larger than the stars and clearly closer, then yeah it could be an orb. It just depends, but definitely try to snap a photo or use a star app if you can. A lot of people falsely report Mars as an orb unfortunately.

For drones, I 100% know what you are talking bout.

In my experience they often don't meet the criteria of a "drone" in size, shape, and weight. They often do not follow FAA regulations.

And yet they show up in my neighborhood every night. Less now than they were in October/November/December, but they still show up.

The hovering for hours, without moving an inch is what people don't seem to understand.

We see these things as low as right above rooftops, and as high as the clouds. The amount of energy required to hover for so long, and without even moving in high winds is insane.

People are like "oh it's just a drone" without realizing the physical abilities the craft would need to even do that for 1 hour, let alone multiple hours of flight paths in between its hover phases.

I'll shoot ya a message - stay in touch.

Try to snap videos or photos if you can, but it's the same everywhere. They only come at night and the light pollution + surroundings in my area are rough as it is, but then on top of it it's near impossible to focus the damn things because of the blinkers.

I will try to snap a photo or video of it when I get on the road again. The weird thing I have encountered is one night all the drones that usually hover over major highways were literally flying sector by sector of my surrounding neighborhood and even black helicopters that did only had two Red lights and one White super bright one in middle like a spotlight but was not facing downwards and so once those helicopters and drones "cleared" the area there was a loud sounded like helicopter that blended into the sky that every 3 second would flash a singular light and every second it appear it would be further and further approximately covered 5-6 miles in a span of 1-2 minutes like insanely fast once it got close to a cloud you could make out the faintest outline of a helicopter but like super far up.

Hackers - February 3, 2025, 3:45 pm

(Feb 3, 2025 04:26 PM)Radi Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I will try to snap a photo or video of it when I get on the road again. The weird thing I have encountered is one night all the drones that usually hover over major highways were literally flying sector by sector of my surrounding neighborhood and even black helicopters that did only had two Red lights and one White super bright one in middle like a spotlight but was not facing downwards and so once those helicopters and drones "cleared" the area there was a loud sounded like helicopter that blended into the sky that every 3 second would flash a singular light and every second it appear it would be further and further approximately covered 5-6 miles in a span of 1-2 minutes like insanely fast once it got close to a cloud you could make out the faintest outline of a helicopter but like super far up.

100% I know what you mean on the behavior. That's usually how it goes down. There's the fleet, but the military/LE that follows or looks for them after sightings too.

I haven't seen a helicopter that high up, but the drones definitely can go above the clouds or as low as the houses and hover all the same, move around, etc. They prefer grid-like motions, like the sides of a 3D cube - up, down, left, right in straight lines. Even when they change direction, they prefer to go forwards, then right - at a 90° right angle rather than a curved turn like a plane may do. For example you may see one go straight up into the sky, directly up, before it proceeds to pick a direction and move that way without turning or being affected by the wind.

We've had a few super loud craft , but distinctly different than a heli. We have a few helicopters that come by for a local hospital and they're easy to spot. We do have a few videos though of 100% silent drones at night, using lights that make them appear similar to a helicopter would at night - but somehow more "bulky" than a heli. It's the quietness of those that gets me, but that's not to say they all are quiet. It depends for sure. I would say most of the drones are quiet or fully silent near us, but some are like grinding metal on metal with the loud buzz of an old HVAC machine.

We're not 100% sure if what we "see" is what they "are" if that makes sense. I can't say anything other than what we've seen in the various physical forms and lights, but what they actually are is something I do not know. Perhaps they're made of metal. Maybe they're plasma. Maybe it's light itself. Who knows.

I call them drones for other peoples benefits, but with the orbs and everything I know that once we're talking about anti-grav or physics-defying energy & flight technology... it's easy to see how an orb could just appear as whatever. Any craft that can do what the orbs do in the skies can also project or bend light. It's the same set of physics / rules, and technology required to do it, so it's not hard to think that if you can do 1 you can do the other. I can only say what i've seen, and the consensus on my side is essentially that there is something "off" about each craft in the fleets. Whether it's a red light on the wrong side of FAA regulations, or something offset by a few feet, or another detail, there's always something seemingly off, or not just right.

It's my opinion that the lights they use are 100% part of the evasion. They make it hard to photograph. They mimic other crafts that fly at night. Without the lights we'd be able to get silhouettes on lighter nights easily. With constant blinking lights and apparently evasive maneuvers when being observed, I can honestly say that the drone fleets are extremely effective at hiding in plain sight. The fact that there are people on HF that think you and I are nuts and making all this up says a lot to be honest. It's the perfect, perfect method. Doesn't matter who or what is responsible, the fleets are here in a lot of different countries and most of the internet thinks it's just in New Jersey. That is absolutely insane to me tbh

The Pact - February 3, 2025, 9:32 pm

(Feb 3, 2025 04:07 PM)Radi Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) So like I've seen these anomalous orbs on videos but in person I have not seen a single one. I've seen some sort of orange circular light but was super far up but nothing that was moving rapidly nor in random directions. The only things I've seen is the drones like a plethora of them that also hover like 100 or so feet above the highway for the last two weeks or so and just stand there it's really hard to take a photo of them due to moving car and it being dark so you can't really focus in on it.

I was trying to help a friend sell his property and the agent wants $5000 up front to send drones to take photos of his property??? Sadly, I don't think he's going to go for that.