Thread: Chiefs vs Eagles Superbowl

Charlie Sheen - January 26, 2025, 7:30 pm

Once again the Chiefs are in the Superbowl for the third year in a row. Eagles really showed out today against the Commanders hanging 55 points on them, as the Chiefs faced challenges getting past the Bills.

The Chiefs recently played the Eagles in the Superbowl back in 2023 and won 38-35. But this is a way different team this time around, the Eagles have been dominant on both sides of the ball this season. The Eagles are looking really difficult to beat, but you can never count old Andy Reid out.

Who do you think will win?

I heard if the Chiefs win this year then the QB is going to be considered the new Tom Brady? Wild

My heart wants Philly but my mind says it's going to be the Chiefs. I want Saquon to ball out and give it to them. Chiefs are just a hard team to beat. They're well coached.

I'm very curious to see what will happen.

Yesterday's game with the Eagles was very strong again!

I don't think the Chiefs are quite as strong this year, they've had to cheat their way through a lot of games.

I was really hoping to see the Commanders in SB because it has been so long for them, and they didn't have a great season last year.

I don't mind though much, I'm a dirty Pats fan and am happy to see a good game regardless of who plays.

I'll root for Eagles just to deny the Chiefs a win here, but don't mind overall

I usually do a SB bet. I'll have to crunch some stats first, but gut feeling is that chiefs are a good team and I don't know much about the Eagles this year.

Honestly I want the eagles to win.

Would be nice to see Mr. NotSoSwift lose.
