Thread: Trump Administration reveals information about the drones over New Jersey

jcole - January 28, 2025, 5:23 pm

Quote:In the first press briefing of Donald Trump's second administration, White House Press Secretary Karoline Leavitt said: 'After research and study, the drones that were flying over New Jersey in large numbers were authorized to be flown by the FAA for research and various other reasons.'

She said information had come 'directly from the president of the United States that was just shared with me in the Oval Office'.

Leavitt continued to explain many of the drones were 'hobbyists, recreational and private individuals' and 'in time, it got worse due to curiosity.'

Are the aliens still invading us Hackers and where are the orbs?

Stay tuned, not worried about this overall.

The reason we know it's not accurate is simple.

Either they're all USA's and that means we have successfully invaded the airspaces of Moscow, Beijing, Shanghai, and dozens of other cities around the world as seen in videos....

Or there are some drones from USA, but orbs are not.

I view it like that.

Either I'm still spot on the money, or the USA has waged WW3 and other countries either don't know or don't care.

That's how I look at it because I can corroborate the stories and videos around the world.

Now, part 2:

- drones are typically 55LB or lower by definition, or they require a special pass
- most of these drones don't follow FAA light regulations
- the orbs defy physics and would upend global energy markets as they essentially have anti-grav and travel close to speed of light

I also should add some thoughts...

- If fleets of SUV-sized drones coming over neighborhoods is sanctioned and normal then why not disclose it, why not ridicule Biden for it, and also who?

- How do they deploy the same exact models of "drones" worldwide, simultaneously?
- Orbs are not drones. Drones are drones. Planes are planes. Plasma is plasma. Gliders are gliders. Orbs are orbs.

I saw his release and I think it's very clever.

He specifically does mention drones, and New Jersey.

We know there are military and commercial or residential drones there.

I will await answers on the orbs specifically, as well as an answer to why they appear all around the world.

I do not for a second believe that the USA is responsible for all of these craft... but if we are then congratulations folks, us Americans have successfully occupied the airspace of almost every country for months without detection and without retaliation!

So I hope you understand, regardless of what is true and what is not - this is a win for America. It's either nothing abnormal and we have technology that far exceeds what any country has. Or there's a lot of exciting things to be discovered still.

The point is simple - whoever is up there has technology that defies all public knowledge of physical capabilities in aircraft, and this is the biggest reason for my excitement over this topic. I could care less about 'aliens' and don't believe aliens have come down to Earth. Never said they did and that's not my personal theory. Yes to NHI - No to aliens or a species suddenly arriving. They've been here a while is my thought.

This is exactly the answer i expected....

Side note: that chick is hot AF, whats her OF?

Yeah, it's some wild shit. My personal opinion is there US drones looking into the orbs. The orbs are some type of extra dimensional or alien technology / aliens and I do believe they've been studying us and here for awhile. Egyptian culture and numerous other ones also painted paintings of flying orbs and saucers, so I don't think they just wanted good story's but trying to tell us something.

Unfortunately for me, I will never know the true answers and can only take for face value what I'm told from the government about certain things. I've never seen either of the two living in West Texas. I live next to one of only two Air Force bases in the country that houses the B-1B Lancer. I wish I could say that I've seen strange things in the sky, but I have not. I'm not ridiculing you in anyway, but I know that you spend a lot of time researching these phenomenon. I was shocked to see you hadn't posted a thread about it already, but figured you hadn't seen the news yet. I personally wouldn't doubt that if there was strange things happening in the sky as transparent as Trump is and his Administration, he wouldn't be openly talking about certain things. I understand that as a normal average joe that certain topics aren't to be regularly discussed with the public.

What we are told and what we can prove to be true usually are not the same things.

Yeah, I think we will have to wait for more info to be honest. Multiple agency directors, mayors, and governors have come out in the last week with their own videos and reports. One of the biggest complaints is being stonewalled by the federal government, or at best it's slow moving.

I don't really research this topic. I have almost 200 videos of my own at this point of drones that don't meet FAA regulations or definitions of what a drone is. And then a few videos of my own that demonstrate physics-defying flight technology.

I think there's enough footage out there to assume that technically Trump is doing the right thing to maintain peace and calmness until we have more answers. It does come off as very dishonest of him though. It's a shame, he could've played it a bit better but instead has caused distrust from other parts of gov & citizens rather than being more open about ongoing investigations. I do get it though.

Aliens are gay. So is drone technology.

It's apart of the way of life. Technology is continually advancing. You can't stop the drones.

Trump addressed the drones flying over New Jersey. I posted a video in the original post.

I know, it was filled with so much info, felt like watching a skin walker ranch tv show. The secret will be revealed, just keep watching... lol

He is good at saying nothing and making it sound like something...

I agree that a lot can be said and nothing is actually revealed.
