Thread: Petunia Flower Tree

taylors4959 - February 3, 2025, 8:19 am

I recently came across the Petunia tree, essentially it's a group of flowers that come together to form a bigger picture.
I wanted to spread the word about this because it's VERY uncommon rare if you will.?
I will be making my own this summer!?

You should post a photo of one for us to see.

This is honestly the first time I've actually heard or even seen one of these trees. I just looked it up on google they are some really colorful trees but then I see some that are majority green with a few flowers. What made you so interested in this specific tree ? Does it have some sort of memory or meaning to you ? I would love to know more.

Unusual and positive thread topic.

I have never seen such a tree, so I will have to look it up. And don't forget to post photos.

That sounds like a really cool project! I'd love to see how your Petunia tree turns out this summer.
Good luck with it! ??
