Thread: Dominating Crypto Space with Our Own Cabal | Apply to THC - The Hidden Cabal, No BS

raceconditioned - February 9, 2025, 1:14 am

Hi all,

So I've been a forum member for a while now, and have extensive experience in numerous topics, but what heavily interests me over the last 5+ years is the crypto space because I truly believe this is the best way to make money nowadays. Although it's highly competitive, and laziness makes you losses only, it works well for hard working creative people with all around skills such as marketing, shilling, developing stuff, running X accounts, building websites and so on.

Anyway, I have created a 7-figures wealth for myself over the years, and this is not a larp, I am not this young anymore to have the need to lie or show fake shit, I am pretty well financially, but not where I would like to be yet. Recently I also incurred a lot of losses gambling during bad market. Either way, my point was that all my wealth was created by dominating the crypto space with my associates and launching our own tokens.

We have our own token launch bots on Ethereum, we have a bundler, we have connections and builders, but it's never enough. We always need shillers, artists, web builders, creative individuals who could be active in Telegram chats and run projects as team, we always need more.

I have been meaning for a while to create an elite group of crypto individuals who collectively create, launch and push low cap tokens and then profit. Profits are distributed fairly based on amount of work each person puts in.

For example someone's role might be to go in 5-20 Telegram chats and shill the launch after the token has launched to get people to buy. Other role might be to be active in Telegram and run raids on X (raids are when you go and write bullish posts about a specific token under influencers fresh tweets to get eyes on our token).

I am looking to grow this into a huge empire, a beast, the perfect cabal and to achieve so it requires a ton of experience, training and rules. Depending on your role you might not even have to risk your money and buy the tokens launched, but you will need to demonstrate to our cabal that you know your crypto around Telegram, degens, you know how the trenches operate basically.

For now, I have created a lobby chat on Telegram which we can use to start meeting and chatting to people who might be interested to join this.

Otherwise, feel free to ask me any questions here. I won't promise how much money you will make, but in good conditions let's say that we typically make at least 5-10 ETH per week. That will heavily depend on your role and if you prepare your own full launches or do lower-wage tasks.

Btw I put the link as attachment coz I want only dedicated people to open it and join, this won't be easy but it's 100% working method and I can teach you a lot. I won't bother with lazy people however.

Either way, you can all ask all your questions here, I'll answer openly, perhaps about how we launch the tokens or how we make sure we profit etc. The general concept is that we buy first using a bundler tool, sometimes we snipe small amounts on top for volume and ensure we have preshilled our token a lot to have momentum and volume. This way we can make money in taxes and keep pushing, slowly turning some supply into profits.

Hahah thanks well the link leads to a lobby, then chat and interview then we see. But this is mostly an attempt from us to recruit hard working smart individuals and make money. The crypto landscape has changed and we all need more allies.

OK awesome, will be chatting to you more actively in few hours as I left home now.

Ngl bro but there is no real positive outcome when you use a huge ass group to launch and promote coins.

I do this with 2 other people, 4 peeps max. Each has their own task and outsource stuff.

Tried launching once with 15 people, what a total shitshow it was.

Agreed, I want to make this TG similar to Neo Tokyo if you know them.

I will tell you a very short story. My worth is just about under 7 figs right now, because I lost a lot those last 3 months sadly due to being ETH maxi. Anyway, 4-5 years back I was part of a group around 20-30 peeps, some of them had the tag of "dev" and launched daily. The rest of people had to snipe a bag, and push the token collectively in as many groups as possible, run the raids and so on.

The dev was being rewarded more due to preparing all the socials, web, narrative and having expenses. Others were rewarded the gains from their bags.

I do think there's a fine line for everyone to profit, and there's ways to give ranks and educate people, 90% of them will suck ass, I know degens, I know Telegram people and how lazy and useless they are, but 5/100 guys will be worth it and they will do crazy shit and overall help the cabal.

That's what I am trying to do here, and we can find a role for everyone, if they don't like their compensation they can try to grow and pick up more tasks, or find somewhere else to go, no hard feelings.

So the idea is that the cabal will not distribute equal profits to all, that's unreal and there's no way to measure someone's hard work precisely versus all others, also some people are more connected than others. The idea is to get a big group going on and in time teach people, who I can help make some starting money who will in their turn help me make more money and so on.

It's hard as you say, but why not.

Another thing you can always do is A) core team keeps part of the taxes, B) insiders buy early, push and sell but you need to ensure there are rules and they are not messing each other up.

It's all possible, it just takes good people, understanding of how it all works and team spirit.

i need in on this, lets talk.

Exsiaa - February 12, 2025, 4:46 am

I 100% want to learn

KingpinAsia - March 5, 2025, 9:13 pm

What a guy haha, the hidden group recruitment post with a public post. Appreciate the hustle though raceconditioned - March 6, 2025, 4:09 am

Bruh are you for real? I am not trying to fish anyone or anything. Whoever wants to see, sees the TG. Whoever joins TG and is active joins private.

We need workers and people with brain who can put in effort, not those who want to be spoon fed, this is why it's designed like that.

If you are not willing to spend some minutes and join TG and then interact and learn etc, I cannot teach you. I need people able to:

- Make numerous Telegram alts
- Join shilling groups, blend in
- Do art, raids on X, be creative
- and much more

Hope it makes sense.

Lucid - March 6, 2025, 11:50 am

Sounds great in theory! Going to look into the group later, I'm always down to make money. Good luck m8 gnojedkire - March 6, 2025, 4:12 pm running a tg of people dishing out numerous shitcoins that will end up going to zero within days is borderline fraud. Total scam shit.

How is it scam shit if it's open market and people can just buy and sell. Usually things go to 0 very quick because no one has patience in market anymore, it's a 0 sum game, it is what it is. Trump's own memecoin is performing shitty lol. The whole market is like this.

it's scam shit because you're intentions are to release multiple inorganic memecoins that is meant to just extract value out of investors and nothing else. You're not even trying to community build like some memecoins do. The lowest of the low type of crypto activity that is actively killing this space every cycle.

Braco22 - March 19, 2025, 9:04 am

So basically you want to orchestrate pump&dump and rug pulls and you need "followers" in your "cabal"?

Omniscient I think this type of activity needs to be disallowed, it hurts the crypto in the long-run.

How did you exactly deduce I won't be trying to community build? This is what the groups are for right? That's so stupid to say. You have no clue who I am in crypto btw.

Just for your own knowledge, I have round tripped insane amounts of money in my own tokens because I like to believe in them, the problem usually is no one else does. A dev launching is not a scammer if you don't destroy it and work alongside community. A cabal could have people leading multiple projects, everyone is looking for new ones every 10 minutes at the microcap levels, so it's what degens want really.

ep1capple - March 22, 2025, 12:26 pm

yea man good luck with your scams

Borris5ranked - September 5, 2026, 1:17 pm

Will definitely be back for this..

m1000 - September 14, 2026, 10:46 am

I'd love to work with you guys. Always wanted to be part of a group like this that builds tokens. I can be pretty proficient with creating graphics, answering questions, shilling, etc. Based in the US with English as a primary language.
