Of course, it's legit! You can find all BINs inside the dashboard and check them with any BIN checker online.

Hi! You created an invoice through Cryptomus, which is a third-party crypto payment processor. It has not received your payment, which means we have not received anything from Cryptomus either. Your invoice: <https://pay.cryptomus.com/pay/11d27114-e615-4862-8bd7-01c3a435041a>. Please share your transaction ID, and we will check it with Cryptomus.

Update: Cryptomus has confirmed that there was an issue with this payment, and they have now fixed it. Sorry for the inconvenience.

I guess you're referring to 3D Secure? Our cards do not support 3DS, but in most cases, transactions go through automatically.

Yes, I am referring to 3D Secure, because I am in France and I have Luxembourg bank accounts that I fund with virtual Kucoin cards or others to transform my BTC into euros. And I was asking this because if I could top up my bank accounts with your virtual cards, I would have bought some, but I am afraid that they do not accept top-ups without 3D Secure. Thank you for your reply

Unfortunately, this is not possible. Due to AML regulations, we block such activities.

Specifically with regards to marketplace violations.

No sales / business should be conducted off-site for your product/service if your product/service is being sold on the forums.

To protect yourself as a seller and your customers you should be using a contract for each sale.

Please follow the rules of the site.

Unfortunately, this does not work for us. The sale of VCCs is conducted exclusively through our website. In this case, you may close this thread.

I personally contacted op in pm i suspect somehow to be not scammed and requested to initiate a contract, but the op is reluctant in maintaining a contract whilst conducting sale/purchase through forum without contract is in policy violation, can anyone vouch for this, please?

As we mentioned before, the sale of VCCs is conducted exclusively through our website—this is our company policy. We have been in the market for over a year and already have more than 5,000 users. You can find information about us on some of the largest forums worldwide, which speaks to our reputation.

What type of policy is this? If its functioning and trustworthy what avoids you to maintain a simple contract with HF users, why is no vouch copy presented in your thread?

I am not saying you are scammer, but by when you suggesting to have a transaction or purchasing this off-site you leaving us in ocean of doubts, if you are in the market for over years and have users along with having good reputation in larger forums than this, then what makes you to promote and sell this in HF forum or to some extent violate the forum contract policy?

I can confirm that i gave a try under vouch copy OP provided me, the service OP is rendering was completely working smoothly, I did paid successfully a portion of payment which was dedicated through a vouch copy to me for a google service - the transaction went smoothly, Although the commission seemed high to me rest assured the virtual card was reloadable, stable, detectable by most of well known merchants especially hosting, and workable, At the end i do not recommend paying or dealing off-site or doing anything in violation of forum policy which is set out over here

The Joker - December 3, 2025, 9:36 am

ronkoetse you need to understand that by asking you to accept a contract here, we do not mean we will pay here.

Contracts on HF is an additional safety offered to both buyer and seller.

We buy your service from your website as usual. But we would enter into a contract here. So, if you fail to offer what you promise to, or I cheat you somehow, we can escalate the problem here and resolve it.

It protects both from possible scams and adds a credibility too.

You gain credibility through completed contracts here.

Service seems good. Would love to try this out soon.

The title of your thread: "PayWithUs - Virtual Cards without KYC"

But you need KYC to be done for issuing new cards. WHY?
