Thread: Most Toxic Person on HF Likely to Have BPD?

Tyr - February 19, 2025, 9:57 am

Another fun thread. Who on HF do you think displays characteristics most correlated to that of antisocial personality disorder, BPD and overall self-pity that they in-turn enjoy weaponizing their mental inequity by displaying a remarkably low-EQ; including but not limited to total lack of executive cognitive functions that other normal human-beings would typically display, a generalized self-hatred against individuals deemed by their neurodivergent mind, and using groupthink to marginalize members of the forum? I personally speculate that this is a direct onset from child bullying throughout their lives leading to enhanced toxicity in their behavior, however, I am no doctor. Needless to say, emotional volatility can sometimes manifest as what may be perceived as self-pity or manipulative behavior. In both cases, there may be an underlying difficulty with executive function and impulse control, potentially exacerbated by past trauma, such as childhood bullying.

you fucking cuck
