hello, ima just get straight to the point here. I score keep kids basketball games as a sidle hustle and been doing it for a couple months now no problem, however there's this coach that doesn't seem to realize this isn't the NBA and it should go without saying his kids don't play at NBA level either ?. This dude is so insufferable not even the referees can stand him, the problem is the company I work for is milking him for money so they obviously won't drop him since they're not the ones dealing with him. I did a little bit more research on this fucker and found his linkedin along with other personal details like his name, website, etc. So i'm wondering if there's any way I can at least mess with him, hit me with ideas.

thank you.

There is no incentive for anyone here to help you go tit-for-tat with some jerk.

Sneak into his house while he sleeps and take a picture of his balls in your mouth. Then bring that to the basketball games. He will look so gay lol

Or just move on with life idk
