Thread: * TIKTOK CERTIFIED BLUE BADGE / VERIFIED ACCOUNT *

Camarade - February 26, 2025, 7:58 am

I have a certified TikTok account that has been abandoned by the company for 5 years and currently has 25 followers.

I have full access to the account and have changed the username to make it less directly linked to the company, so you are free to use it however you like.

If you change the username, TikTok will review it to ensure the certification remains valid. Therefore, it must still be related to the original account name or an abbreviated version. The same applies to the general account name.

I have shortened the account name as much as possible—something like @clpoff (this is just an example to give you an idea), and the display name is something like CLOP-MY (which can be changed to make it more discreet).

The transaction will go through escrow, and the account will be delivered with 100% access.

Feel free to make me your offers.
