Thread: Fun Fact: Elephant Jokes.

Novo - March 2, 2025, 10:03 pm

In 1960 in the United States, a type of joke called "elephant jokes" was created. Along with them, the famous joke "How do you put an elephant in the refrigerator?" originated in its original form, which was "How many elephants can you fit in a van?" followed by "How many giraffes can you fit in a van?"—with the answer being 0 because the van is already full of elephants.

Elephant jokes are such a fun slice of humor history! The van joke perfectly captures their playful absurdity.

Hah! That's funny. I got one.

What did the elephant say to the train conductor?

I've got one.

Q: What do you get if you cross an elephant and a rhino?

A: Elifino!

Geddit?? 'ell.....if.....i.....know? Elifino!

Hello?.....Hello?.....taps microphone is this thing on?

Lol that's funny, I didn't know it!

I love jokes but never really remember them or hear about them too much. I love meeting those people who have at least 10 memorized to laugh at you at any time. special people indeed!

Elephant jokes are always a classic! Love the creativity in coming up with those punchlines.
