Thread: China says it is ready for war with America

The world sucks!

Quote:China has said it is "ready for war" with America as it raises defence spending and imposes retaliatory tariffs on US imports.

In a direct threat to Donald Trump, China's representatives in America said: "If war is what the US wants, be it a tariff war, a trade war or any other type of war, we're ready to fight until the end."

Pete Hegseth, the US defence secretary, in turn said the US is "prepared" to go to war.

"If war is what the US wants, be it a tariff war, a trade war or any other type of war, we're ready to fight till the end," the post read.

Mr Hegseth told Fox and Friends that the US was "prepared" and that "those who long for peace must prepare for war."

The US has hit China with 20 per cent tariffs in response to what the White House considers to be Chinese inaction over the flow of fentanyl, a synthetic opioid, into America.

Beijing has responded by announcing plans to boost defence spending by 7.2 per cent and hit the US with reciprocal tariffs of 10 to 15 per cent on certain imports from March 10.

In combative statements online, China's ministry of foreign affairs and US embassy warned Washington that "intimidation does not scare us" and criticised Mr Trump for linking tariffs to the fentanyl crisis.

The fiery language comes as China's top legislature met for annual Two Sessions meetings in Beijing, where the plans to boost defence spending were revealed.

The rise in spending is equal to the jump last year and takes the official budget to roughly 1.78 trillion yuan (£190 billion), as China pursues the goal of Xi Jinping, its president, to build a modern military by 2027.

Honestly the US brought this upon themselves with their incisive need for Chinese products. Fucking amazon. Manufacturing everything overseas instead of in country...but then again the old adage comes to mind..."There would be a rifle behind every blade of grass" - Admiral Isoroku

Crazy timeline where the US is backing Russia over Europe, where Russia's only ally in the war so far had been North Korea.

China is probably ecstatic with US relations globally breaking down, their military spending has been approaching that of the US, but they still have more people, more tanks, more combat aircraft (yes the US have more aircraft in general) and more naval vessels

China has been at war with the US for years already.

It is important to understand that nowhere near every US soldier has seen combat, additionally we have many who have been disabled and are no longer active duty, those who served their contracts which is between 2-6 years.

Point is while we have combat experience actual active duty soldiers who have seen combat is shrinking such as those who served in the Iraq and Afghanistan wars, we have more recent recruits without combat experience.

A war with China is a terrible idea they are not a weak country, they have the technology, they have a lot more soldiers, they have the worlds largest military.

Also they are a nuclear power, nobody wins with that.

The escalating rhetoric between the U.S. and China underscores the rising tension over trade, defense, and international influence. Both sides appear to be preparing for a protracted conflict, with China increasing defense spending and retaliating with tariffs, while the U.S. signals readiness to confront these moves. This heightening tension could have serious implications for global stability.

These aren't the kind of headlines the world needs right now. With global markets still recovering and conflicts already raging elsewhere, a US-China confrontation — even economic — could trigger serious consequences globally.
