Thread: Looking for Local Bruter Script / PowerShell etc

You know you can actually brute the admin creds easily via a user account right?

Is either you have a script to do it or do it via powershell which is much faster.

I figure I might code one myself is there an existing script/tool for this?

I haven't look around yet.

Yea I know , no longer needed. I managed to code a powershell script to do it. Much Faster. I need something that requires no external installation like hydra requires its executable file.

Yea I use this too. I have ways to automate it. But I need another way via BruteForcing too.

What's your methodology for Win LPE?

Most Win LPE are publicly published anyways no matter how good it is. Unless you found a zeroday.

Hit me up , lets see what you saying.
