Thread: You are a hacker, what does your EDC bag look like?

I've always seen the IT guys always seem to have cool bags with I'm assuming expensive equipment for expensive jobs.

I was thinking of getting one but what would I put in it? I wanna hear either what you currently do or want to do!

I guess it would depend on what you do. Everybody is different and each senerio is different.

The term is new to me, but a laptop would probably be desirable. I suppose that you're talking about something like this: <https://shop.hak5.org/products/tactical-edc-bag-for-wifi-pineapple>

I don't carry a laptop, but my ideal EDC bag would have the following:

- 1) notepad and pen
- 2) fiat wallet and crypto cold wallet
- 3) 2x flash drives
- 4) eyes drops and advil
- 5) 1x phone with SIM card (preferably a hardened iPhone)
- 6) 1x wifi only phone (with GrapheneOS).
- 7) a handful of discrete THC edibles
- 8) nicotine. preferably snus.
- 9) a legal weapon that isn't a gun.
- 10) digital reader.
- 11) descrete mask and sunglasses.

Preferably everything in a faraday bag, but depending on the situation this wouldn't be essential. That's about all I can think of!

I currently carry a laptop, portable hard drive, various cables, USB drive, and a notebook in my IT bag. It's always good to have the essentials on hand for any job that comes your way!

Nice, have you used this website at all? Looking for credible brands that you've bought from!

By fiat wallet I just mean a wallet for regular government issued cash and cards, those kinds of things.

I mean carrying a piece lol

Yeah it feels cool but with knowledge you dont need bullets to take a man down.

Psychology and biology. You can finish a person with pure air, a blow dart or a snap of the neck
