Hey I would like to ask about personal experiences on people using this forum regarding having such a farty tummy that your co-passenger sees jumping out of the moving car as a better option.

Today was such a day... I was the farting one tho. Smelled good to me. Anyone wanna smell? $5/jar.

Don't forget to use contract when selling those things to the community. Buyers may also want to use a middleman to avoid getting scammed. ?

$5/jar is a bargain though.

Haha, sounds like quite the experience! I'll pass on the offer to smell though, thanks.

How can I order in bulk?

Asking for a friend.

LOL... great sense of humor, i had gas problems past years, but recent years i barely ever experience that. Honestly it depends on groceries and food that you eat. Usually homogen groceries, milky products, specific meat and chili food can cause many issues such as stomach problems, gasses, dairy, inner digestive system bacteria deficit...
