Thread: 200\$ Crypto Giveaway - CRACK THE SEED

7 - March 19, 2025, 5:51 am

? $200 in SOL up for grabs ?

For the next 7 days, you can apply to enter this high-stakes puzzle challenge. One wallet. One prize. One winner.

How it Works:

? $200 in SOL will be placed in a wallet and left untouched.

? Starting 7 days from now, participants will receive one riddle per day for 12 days.

? Each riddle reveals one of the 12 mnemonic words needed to access the wallet.

? After the 12th riddle is sent, the race begins.

? First one to unlock the wallet & transfer the SOL wins it all.

? No second chances. No handouts. Just pure skill, patience, and speed. ?

? Want in? Apply now. Just post your interest in joining, QL the thread and I will add you to the list of competitors

The hunt begins soon. ? #CrackTheSeed #CryptoChallenge

Awesome idea for a contest!

JoseMar - March 19, 2025, 7:16 am

Nice contest 7 Count me in, please!

I'm not so good at riddles, but I hope to win this.

Miracula - March 19, 2025, 7:23 am

Count me in as well, seems pretty interesting!

jcole - March 19, 2025, 7:45 am

Love this idea. It's a contest that is not just randomized drawing. I'll participate!

Pr0m3th3us - March 19, 2025, 7:47 am

I would like to participate in this. Thanks

blackrose_x0x0 - March 19, 2025, 7:49 am

Thanks mate. Bringing back riddles at the same time as previously discussed.
All enteries valid so far.

Let's get everyone involved and CRACK THE SEED

Clue - March 19, 2025, 2:02 pm

Count me in - great concept and good luck to all

DemonAsylum - March 19, 2025, 2:21 pm

This is actually a really awesome idea for a contest. It's of course nice to see anything outside of the random post chosen winners, but this goes beyond simply being different as well. Looking forward to seeing how this plays out and who wins. I'm not sure to what degree I'll end up participating, but you can add me to the list of entrants. Should be fun.

Thanks for hosting this and good luck everyone!

Right everyone should of recieved the first riddle to for the first word for cracking the seed other than the following:

Animal Has me on their Blocklist

jane doesnt except PMs

Chorozon - Chorozon because you're not on their buddy list.

So if @Animal@ @jane@ & @Chorozon@ fix this ill send to you let me know in the thread.

If not your removed from the competition

(Mar 28, 2025 05:24 AM)jane Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) i have received the riddle from @7@

No worries, note to all you don't need to send me your guesses each day.

Save them until you got twelve and then crack the seed.

If you dont understand what that means is once you have twelve words you can install trust wallet and type them in if they are the right words... you get access to the money and to send it out to your SOL address, before someone else does.

I didn't realise this would be so complicated to explain but we will get there

I also want to add a little spin.

Everyone who entered will recieve via PM the riddle at the same time.

The next day when I send the next riddle, I will post the previous riddle to everyone

So on the twelve day only the people who entered can win but on the 13th day its a free for all.

Pr0m3th3us - March 28, 2025, 1:51 pm

Is the first letter of each word uppercase or lower?

Are you sending the PM at the exact same time every day?

Komodo - March 28, 2025, 4:48 pm

This is still awesome.

(Apr 3, 2025 04:50 PM)eXceptional Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I don't get notifications when I receive any PM from anyone. Is it happening with anyone else too?

Yes when you send messages to multiple people they do not show as a notification it seems.

I have been announcing in the thread each day when they get sent and also in convo and also had users reply to say the recieved the riddle to keep the thread up on latest post and threads. Thats the maximum I can do..

Lucky you spotted now still got plenty of time
Just check each day the thread and when it gets sent out the thread will say. I purposely vary to the time as I do not want to give one geolocation the advantage and send them out say 3am every day in New York but 9am in London or whatever.

The last riddle I will announce the time exactly so everyone has the same chance and make it within a reasonable hour for most of the users.

No thats the point of a recovery seed. You dont need the password.

Just download trust wallet extention in a seperate browser and tomorrow try crack the seed and send out the money before someone else does it.

I wrote a couple of scripts in python to check for addresses with balance matching the potential words with the wallet. But it failed to properly check the balance. Was rejecting all wallets.

At the end I narrowed it down to like 30 odd seeds and manually tried pasting it and one of them worked!

Riddle no. 5 and 10 I would say were the most difficult for me to guess.

Congrats RangoWorld but please share the words herenot just how you did it ?

Above all, Thanx 7 for this, very nice contest and very fun, I didn't expect it to be so nice, but my wife and I stayed here with bated breath to see if we could crack it, but no luck... Anyway, thanks a lot for this contest, it was very fun

7 - April 8, 2025, 7:58 am

I wanted to make it challenging and yes if you put the wrong phrase in you find an empty wallet.

This was a first run.

Would you like to see this return? I believe it was good fun

Jamika - April 8, 2025, 8:00 am

Damn all was right except lumber , congrats for rango

Do you want to see another competition like this in the future?

Next time ill make it more accurate.

TBH, my fault was I didn't add my timezone.

I hope you enjoyed it though and look forward to the next competition.

Oh it's all good my man. I didn't go into this expecting to win, but rather was more so just excited at the prospect of the intensity from competing with others come that time haha. For what it's worth I thought the release window idea for the last riddle and while trying to best cater to everyone time wise was great. It may not have came to fruition as planned, but it was your first go at this, you could be more accurate next time like you said, and everything else was perfect imo.

(Apr 8, 2025 07:57 AM)RangoWorld Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) No. 5 and no. 10 nearly drove me crazy.

I was stuck for too long on no. 5 being Wood. Lol.

No. 1 was the easiest.

I had lumber as my #3 possible answer for riddle 5, but riddle 10's answer would have had me in a chokehold it seems LOL. All of the others I either had what I noted as the definite answer and that turned out to be such or I had a few possible ones and that the correct answer was within. Faculty for riddle 10 though.. Not sure I was ever getting that and especially while no doubt second guessing other riddle answers in the process lmao. Congrats again, well deserved!

RangoWorld - April 8, 2025, 8:11 am

This is my sum up post for this contest. Probably my last post of this thread.

The riddles were fun. Initially I thought they're easy and probably someone will crack it before all 12 riddles were revealed. That was not the case.

Come to Day 11. I tried bruteforcing the last word. It didn't worked. I guess it was because the older riddles still had potential wrong words. Which was the case.

I started writing few scripts.

Tried a million combos yesterday. None of it worked.

Finally once 12th riddle was guessed. All it was left for me to find potential wrongs in previous riddles. As I have said before Riddle no. 5 and 10 were most difficult.

At the end I narrowed it down to some 30 odd seeds using one of the script. The seeds were in output file valid_seeds.txt.

I started manually copy pasting it and viola! One of it worked. Then it was the usual recheck your sol address and click confirm.

I will say there was a moment at the end where I nearly gave up.

7 It was a great contest. I thoroughly enjoyed it. Honestly speaking. Though I never considered myself as being a pro "hacker" or a "cracker". Aside from the money it definitely feels good to know that I can crack stuff as well.

Full marks on the uniqueness of this competition. I don't think we have ever had such fitting contest to the namesake of this forum. Maybe we have had. But in my time this has felt the most fitting competition to this forum.

Well done ?

Absolutely. This is by far the coolest and most unique giveaway format I've ever seen on here. It provides so much more to the whole experience. Obviously everyone can appreciate any cookie cutter giveaway that is done on here and I don't describe them as that with disrespect either of course, but something like this is just on a whole different level haha. It would be awesome to see anything like this from you again in the future, but like I mentioned I hope it also inspires others that do giveaways to at least consider branching out and doing something more unique, interactive, fun, etc like this accomplished.

This was a fun competition.

I also started brute forcing it after day 8 with my own scripts but didn't get any luck. I had messed up correctly guessing one of the keys and that wrong seed was in my known seeds list.

Anyway, this was fun and way better than the typical "like my post and give max rep" contests.

Tyr - April 8, 2025, 11:19 am

Good luck everyone. After solving a plethora of the other ones I am no longer interested. Thank you.

No but im not sure your angle here.

The thread finished positively and I paid out around 250$ and the users want more...

You don't? Or what is the issue?

There's no angle at all my dude. I agree, it left a positive image for sure. I just wanted to excuse myself from the previous one it if it was still going because I have been slammed lately. If they want more, that is very generous of you.
