While the new rules introduce some changes, they don't conflict with Týr's core engagement on the forum. Additionally, their presence aligns with the community's values and the overall direction the forum is taking. For now, Týr remains a member of HF; either hated or loved.

What rule change? Can you be more specific?

IDK, there is a huge list of awards in the profile section but I am not sure how to activate.

I think you are referring to the white ninja.
