For the last 1 week + he comments the same on both threads. The same exact product is sold, 1 time vs subscription based.

By this logic if I sell a product "For 1 time" I can open a second thread? Please confirm, if so I will open another thread as-well and pay for another sticky!

This seems very odd and it opens a point of exploitation:

Tomorrow someone will start selling "Engine Alpha", "Engine Beta", etc..

I will tag staff here:

Cross-posting is not allowed, only 1 thread per product / service.

Threads and posts are reviewed manually. Occasionally, some go unnoticed, which is why the 'report' button exists, feel free to use it or to contact Staff if you think something is going against the rules.

Threads will be merged when the paid sticky expires. Paid stickies are not a way to circumvent the rules tho, do not make a second thread for the same / similar products and get a sticky to bypass the rules.

Thanks
