Thread: what can we do to get intelligent people in power

hayesh - April 6, 2025, 6:17 am

I still think there are too many unintelligent people on earth. Especially in positions of power. It seems smart people don't always get to where they need to be in society to ensure the advancement of that society. What suggestion do you have to get smarter people in positions where they can make an impact.

Well i understand your point but you know where its the problem ?

The system or the matrix dont want inteligent people in functions because they cant be manipulated and ruled as they want

They want foolish pupies who obey to their rules and not think to much and have a brain of their own

So this mision its hard as its like working against the system personally am terrified of government monopoly.

better that we have some leaders unliked and small problems here and there.

all about jurisdiction.

That's not how it works. The system is built for dumb yes-men to be in charge, it would work against the elite if you put highly intelligent individuals in the mix.

They are Evil Genius Masterminds in Power right now. That's why you feel the way you do.
