Skull is Back — Reviving My HF Projects (Poker, CTF, Casino & More)

Hey HF,

I'm back after a break, and finally have time to revisit and build out some HF-related hobby projects I started over a year ago. Some had early betas, others are brand new — all aiming to bring more value, utility, and fun to Bytes and the community.

These are all personal hobby projects that are NOT yet discussed with Staff. Posting now to get early feedback, ideas, and see what people are most hyped for before anything goes further.

Here's the current roadmap:

1. Bytes Poker

A real-time poker platform where HF members can play against each other.

Originally had a short beta years ago

Being rebuilt for stability and performance

Might include small Byte entry fees to help support Stanley & stabilize the Byte economy

Optional Group Tables — user groups (e.g., Warriors) can have themed tables

Group Tables can be exclusive to that group or publicly accessible

Custom styles, designs, and table branding per group

Optional entry fee in Bytes — partially donated to the group or its leader/fund

More info: Bytes Poker Beta Thread

2. Hack HF — Jeopardy-Style Missions

A mission-based hacking challenge platform focused on simulated real-world concepts.

Session hijacking

Cookie manipulation

Password hashing & cracking

Steganography

SQL injection / XSS

Bypassing authentication

AI prompt injection

Basic forensics & CTF-style puzzles

Features: Scoreboard + shareable stats signature

Hidden/secret missions within missions

Optional Byte-based hints to support the Byte market

All missions are free to access

3. HF CTF (Capture the Flag Site)

A secure platform offering VPN-accessible vulnerable systems for whitehat testing.

Misconfigured SSH/FTP boxes

Exploitable web servers

IoT device simulations

SQL-injection environments

Privilege escalation labs

Features: Wall of Fame leaderboard

Whitehat-only (blackhat use = ban + HF Staff report)

Optional Byte-purchasable hints

Access is controlled for user safety

4. HF Casino

A fun, Byte-based casino where members can challenge the house (me) in unique and interactive games.

Games: Dice Duels: Classic /roll game against house or other users

Roulette: Red/black, single number, and more

Crash Game: Bytes multiply as the curve rises — cash out before it crashes

Wheel of Fortune: Spin for Byte multipliers, item prizes, or bonus entries

Hi-Lo: Guess if the next number is higher or lower

Plinko: Drop a chip and win based on where it lands

Mini Poker (vs House): Quick 1-hand draw against the bot

Lucky Ladder: Climb increasing Byte prizes with each win, risk losing it all

Winnings paid in Bytes

Games could include leaderboard stats

Some games may have fees to keep the Byte value healthy

Proceeds may be partially donated to Stanley or community events

More games may be added over time — taking suggestions too!

5. Extended HF API

A more advanced API that builds on top of the official one — only available if/once approved by Staff.

The idea is to allow trusted devs and group leaders to build tools, bots, dashboards, or integrations by exposing nearly every HF feature through an API — securely and with limits where needed.

Example API Endpoints: Hack Game API — interact with Hack HF challenge data

Private Messages — read/send (with user approval and scope)

User Group Management — see who's in your group, invite, remove

Upgrade API — gift upgrades to users programmatically

Awards API — list, assign, gift, or purchase awards

Comrades API — friend requests, mutuals, etc.

Sticky Threads — buy, renew, and manage them via API

Marketplace Management — update/storefronts, set products, edit prices

Disputes API — create, view, and manage disputes

Sales Tag API — purchase or extend tags

Lottery API — check status, buy entries, show results

Scratch Card API — buy, scratch, show winners

Sportsbook API — place/view bets, odds, results

Blackjack API — play and log results

Slots API — spins, odds, stats

Crypto Game API — faucet claim, roll, send/receive crypto

Could allow fully automated bots, market tools, and dashboards

Certain endpoints could be limited to usergroups or paid tiers

Some API features may require a fee in Bytes

Only available after review and approval by Staff

Imagine nearly every HF feature — accessible securely via an API.

6. HF Bot

A smarter “Stanley” that brings features, fun, and automation to live chat or forums.

Bot Features (ideas): /roll [amount] — Dice duel for Bytes

/duel — Challenge another user to a wager

/bet — Open bet creation

/trivia — Answer for Bytes

/quote — HF quotes, funny moments, etc.

/stats — User stats, rankings, etc.

What other bot commands would you want to see?

7. HF Bytes Shop

An automated shop that allows members (pending Staff approval) to sell Bytes for crypto.

How it works: Sellers list Bytes at a set price

Smart contract-style system handles payment + transfer

Bot manages escrow

I act as middleman for added protection

No manual contact needed

Designed for trust, security, and no-scam trading.

8. HF Automations

Automation tools to improve quality of life and increase activity across the forum.

Planned automations: Automatic Giveaways: Easily create giveaways with auto entry-checking and winner picking

Dynamic Signatures: Live-updating sigs with your stats, wins, ranks, etc.

Automated Middleman Bot: Escrow bot for low-risk deals under a set amount

Reputation Alerts: Get notified when you're repped, tagged, or mentioned

Byte Tip System: Instantly tip members using a command (e.g., /tip skull 10)

What else would you like to see automated? Drop your suggestions!

Let me know:

Which project are you most excited about?

What features would you add or change?

Would you use any of these yourself?

Got ideas or tools of your own to contribute?

Again: None of this is official or approved — I'll be discussing with Staff before anything is launched.

Right now I'm just building, testing, and gathering feedback from the community.

Appreciate all thoughts, hype, or criticism

Glad that you are excited, I personally think the jeopardy hacking missions and CTF boxes will add a lot of more engagement and learning progress for the members of HF. Hopefully with guides and tutorials with these real/fake penetration platforms.

Thanks, and yes, especially ensuring the security layer of this is difficult. Which is why I put myself in as middleman to ensure that payments and bytes are being sent correctly. And I'll cover losses myself in case of issues.

Personally, I'm just trying to remove the scams related to buying and selling bytes.

Welcome back skull and that's a hell of a list you have there! Lots of potentially great things and it would be awesome to see any of them come to fruition. I look forward to hopefully seeing such and wish you the best of luck!

As for what you said about trying to remove the scams related to buying and selling bytes, that thankfully isn't really a thing. I actually can't recall ever seeing a dispute for a bytes deal honestly. To be fair though, only so many bytes deals even happen at all and most of them involve the same few people that have sold for a long time such as myself. I also feel like trying to scam with bytes just isn't as accessible and desirable of a thing versus for example a currency exchange. Plus if someone did get scammed for them, all of the proof is right here on HF in the form of bytes logs and a contract assuming one was used as is it's meant to be. Additionally, Omni could easily step in (not that he necessarily would of course) and reimburse the bytes that were scammed.

In any case, I'm really glad to see that you're back and also motivated to work on some projects. I know multiple of the listed ideas have been suggested and or generally just asked about in the past so it's clear that there is a desire from members for them. Given that, hopefully in due time we get to see any of them come to life. You no doubt have the support of tons of people on here, myself included of course. Good luck and be sure to keep the community updated with anything that we can do to help throughout your process of working on these!

gwiz - April 12, 2025, 10:58 am

As for the casino games, will you be able to pay them out yourself?

I'm super excited for the Poker one, I think that should come out first! :3

Yes, I plan to buy quite a large sum of bytes before the launch. As I would be responsible for paying out the bytes to players.

And when the bank is empty, the games will be unavailable for the time being.

Yeah that's what I mentioned to him as well. I don't think I've ever seen a single dispute for a bytes deal. Not complaining of course haha. It makes sense for multiple reasons as I explained in that reply as well. Either way it's simply nice to not have any further scams than already occur coming from our beautiful bytes ?

(Apr 13, 2025 08:49 AM)Net Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Exactly what I was thinking. Nonetheless I would love to see an automated sell/buy function of Bytes. If DemonAsylum doesn't monopolize the whole thing.
:stuck_out_tongue:

Lmaoo ? Nah there isn't much there to monopolize honestly. I suppose it's understandable that it wouldn't be known to most members, but there aren't tons of bytes deals that even happen. Many days there are seemingly none. It's not a matter of availability by any means either so I don't see an auto shop changing that. There have been some before and it didn't make a difference either. Demand for bytes is generally just pretty low these days is all.

On the bright side, that being the case makes the idea of things such as additional ways to play and gamble with bytes all the more exciting. It could definitely add more interest and demand to bytes. I'm not sure to what degree it realistically would, but anything more to do with them will be appreciated and any additional demand for them will help. We shall see what happens.

(Apr 13, 2025 01:40 PM)skull Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Doesn't Demon already have a monopoly on the bytes market? ?

Not much of a demand for bytes these days so not much there to monopolize really haha. Fair to say I'm a go to guy for those that do end up wanting some though ? Hopefully some of the projects you put out end up bringing more interest and demand to bytes. Even if not to a crazy degree, anything is appreciated and helps.

It makes sense for multiple reasons as I explained in that reply as well. Either way it's simply nice to not have any further scams than already occur coming from our beautiful bytes ?

I felt the same way about not wanting to come off rude about it lol, but yeah the truth is basically nobody on HF gets scammed in Bytes deals. I did years ago when someone chargedback a PayPal payment to me, was doing a "friend" a favor by using PayPal, and welp, like I said he cb'd and ended up getting banned.

Today's day though, I haven't seen a Bytes exchange deal dispute thread in literal years, it's just not a problem HF really faces thankfully.

Something similar to <https://hackforums.net/market.php> for an auto-Bytes-exchange would be nice. If somehow using the HF API, one can send the payment, and once it recognizes payment is complete, Stanley then auto-releases the Bytes to the buyer. That would definitely be a cool feature, and very streamlined.

Would love to see some skill based games here on HF

Tired of losing money to luck based games.

For sure. Something more automated and streamlined definitely wouldn't hurt. I don't think it would change much nor do I think it's needed, but no one would complain about it either obviously haha. I'd say focus on some of the projects that could bring more interest and demand to bytes first and then down the road after seeing whatever impact that has, go from there with deciding on whether to bother with creating an automated system for buying/selling them.

Yeah, hopefully these games can help make the byte market value and keep people more engaged on the site in general, since bytes are given for engaging. We will see what happens

Thanks, they will get there, might take a few weeks though

Hell, even if they don't shift the demand and value whatsoever, it will simply be nice having more you can do with them haha. Looking forward to any such things ?

Poker would definitely be skilled based, playing against other players for their bytes.

Agreed. At this point in time it's not something that's needed on HF. Would be cool regardless, but like you said there's other areas of HF that might be better to focus on.

Yes, please don't make it so we play against bots lol. ?

Welcome back, skull !

Glad to see you still around, my friend -- and with high-quality projects to boot.

Money- - April 15, 2025, 4:25 am

Very interesting projects man. Would be very interested in these.

2. Hack HF — Jeopardy-Style Missions

3. HF CTF (Capture the Flag Site)

7. HF Bytes Shop

An automated shop that allows members (pending Staff approval) to sell Bytes for crypto.

1. Bytes Poker

Especially number 3.

Good news, HackHF is just about to launch, already in private beta.

Mooooookie - April 15, 2025, 11:02 am

Tbh, all the stuff you listed sounds pretty intuitive and beneficial to HF. I think the different games catches my interest the most, as I enjoy playing the games on HF as it is. Did you manage to get approval for any/some of them already? Any ETA's?

HackHF is already functional, and had no features that are beyond whats normal for HF, so I didn't ask for the permission.

So that should be launched in a few days, its already in closed beta.

Next up will be HF Poker, which might take another 3-4 weeks before a beta is ready, and the rest will have to come somewhat after.

The projects that may require HF approval, would be the extended API, the bots, and maybe byte shop (which I might not even do).

- Extended API requires staff approval since it's actually utilizes features that was not meant for a API.

- Bots, since its bots, requires staff approval.

- Marketplace platforms such as a byte shop, might require staff approval, since its directly connected with the market value of bytes.

Anyhow, as mentioned, in a few days HackHF is up, and then my goal is HF Poker.

The priority after that might change, but I think is HF Casino, HF API, HF Bots and then finally HF CTF in the end (most complex, requires the most effort, so its last on my priority)

I commend you for your hard work, and dedication to helping make HF an even better place. I'm sure there are many members that enjoy playing the on-site games as much as me. HF Poker sounds like a good time. I enjoy playing poker at the casino, and sometimes on the weekend with some of my acquaintances.. so looking forward to that getting implemented. Will HackHF have bytes implemented into it in one way or another? Bytes are always a good incentive to get users to play. I like the HF Casino idea as well.. that sounds like a good time.

Lastly, the Bytes Shop sounds like it could be a real winner. Users are regularly selling and purchasing Bytes, this would make the market a little more organized.

Much props to you.

The interesting part is the bytes multipliers and maybe something like some dice thrown in there like what used to be popular.
