Thread: New Here & Ready to Dive In!

KrishnaGanga - April 13, 2025, 1:17 am

Hey everyone!

Just wanted to drop by and introduce myself.

I recently joined this awesome-looking forum and I'm really excited to be here.

I've known about this forum for a long time. I used to take a quick peek every now and then.

Today, after many years, I finally decided to register-driven by both a business mindset and a thirst for knowledge.

I hope to receive a warm welcome! ?

Regards

Same here. But I don't really understand the site, I can't even post in the marketplace section, and I found a convo section, but I can't chat there either.

Welcome to Hack Forums!

You said you've know about the forum for some time, but just didn't register.. what made you decide to finally register? If you haven't already, read over the Help Docs, and consider upgrading your account.

Hope to see you around.

Apologies for delayed response...

Once upon a time, I had an account with UB3R, and was even a group owner....

Once upon a time, i was mod with special access to staff lobby and ran Free and Paid services. (Bread and Butter)..

Once upon a time, a not so hefty amount was quietly donated to keep HF alive (by staff members obviously, good old friends) when Omni hinted at shutting it down due to maintenance costs. But this all happened in the secret chambers of the staff lobby... not out in the public threads.

A bunch of oldschool legends chipped in out of passion, not pressure...

Omni? He never asked for a single dollar. Classic silent boss move. ?

But let me tell you something

Omni always had/have 5–6 backup plans ready to roll. If one went down, another popped up like a Hydra head.

You don't outsmart him,, you just get logged. ?
Unbeatable.

Once upon a time, life pulled me into the abyss and I vanished from the scene.

Once upon a time, I tried to log back in only to realize i forgot both my password and my email.
Did I use the contact form? Nah.... I ghosted myself.

Once upon a time, HF had a database breach.

Then, once upon another time, Omni decided to purge the digital graveyard of inactive souls (inactive members) mine included.

Once upon a time, I even forgot my HF username. Yep. That happened.

And once upon a time,, somewhere around mid 2007, Omniscient registered username on forum was Labrocc'a... (Ignore the ')

I feel proud that HF is still standing on its own legs...Wobbly sometimes!!,maybe one shoe missing!,, but still standing. Period. Like an old warrior who's seen it all & refuses to retire....

I was always part of HF since 2007s

So much history... so many "once upon a times"..
It sounds ridiculous, I know but hey, that's the truth. ?
