Thread: Does marketplace post have fees

Bourverm - April 13, 2025, 9:22 am

Hi guys , i am new to this forum looking to buy and post my services, I am curious is there a fees to post threads on marketlace, because if there isn't any fees it's going to be problematic because people who have upgraded accounts will spam making marketplace inefficient to find proper buyers and sellers

Herbert - April 13, 2025, 9:56 am

If you're talking about thread bumps, you can pay a ?ytes fee to have it moved to the top.

Posts that don't have anything valuable to add to the thread are considered LQP bumps and can get you warning or worse.

You can read more about it here: <https://hackforums.net/misc.php?action=help&hid=35>

Crazy, he wants HF to start charging eBay fees... lol

Not to post a thread, but some sections will be off limit to you. I suggest upgrading to at least leet.

Bro i'm not talking about it charging you like ebay, I am new here so i don't know if HF charges you for each MARKETPLACE thread. According to me it should, because if it is not then what is stopping people from spamming their service and absolutely ruining the the opportunities of genuine sellers with quality service

Then how can a genuine seller get coverage without having to bump their thread? Or do you have to get proper views for your service to actually get some clients

Threads are moderated, and sellers can't make duplicate threads like in any forum. Don't worry about it.

Ok got it , because see bro i am familiar to BHW, and there you can't do spams in marketplace. And for posting marketplace threads here do you have to like get your thread approved by moderators or something to prove you can actually provide that service after getting upgraded account?

No, you just post it. People will ask if you're offering a vouch copy. If you're new, I suggest giving one or two out to staff or reputable members so you can get the ball rolling, but it's not mandatory. You really just post and hope for the best.

What is a vouch copy? Can you refer me any docs for newbie which explain these basic stuff, as it appears to be common knowledge for this forum

I believe they offer them on BHW, too. But you just provide a copy of whatever you're selling for free or cheap, typically free depending on what you're offering, and they'll review it (vouch for it) in your thread for you.

oh okay, so let's assume i have a service of which i can give out sample of, do i message random moderators or people with high post and ask them to vouch for my service in my thread while giving them a sample?

Do you plan on selling physical goods?

You just offer the vouch copies on your thread, people will line up for them.

That's a thin rope you'd be walking on. The safest thing for you to do would be to mention that you're offering a vouch copy in your thread and have people message you instead of you messaging a bunch of random people. If it's clear that you're offering that, I promise you'll have people wanting it.

Nah bro not particularly physical , i was hoping i could sell stuff like verified crypto wallets and stuff because normal forums doesn't allow finance (grey hat according to them) related threads

Normally they don't come in cheap, they're decently expensive to give out for free. So is it possible to get vouches for a service like that? (i don't think just screenshots of account will count as a sample)

Yeah, there's no approval needed, but spam isn't allowed here, either, and good reputation/credibility is important.

What's stopping it is that you have to buy Leet or Uber to post in the Marketplace. Now stop suggesting bad ideas please. Go read the HELP DOCUMENTS. You're not going to sell anything here if you haven't read the Help Documents. <https://hackforums.net/misc.php?action=help>

I'm not sure whether it's allowed to sell verified crypto wallets here, I don't think it is though.. you would have to ask one of the Staff members. You can find a link to all the Staff at the bottom of the forum, feel free to shoot one of them a message for pre-approval.

In order to open a Sales Thread on here, you need to upgrade your account first. Regular users aren't allowed to open Sales Thread. Once you upgrade, you can post in certain sections based on your rank. I believe the only place Leet can't post is Premium Sellers section, but you can check Marketplace Discussions for more information on that.. there are threads with answers to most FAQ regarding selling.

You will gain views to your Sales Thread just by posting it.. if the service or product is something that people are interested in, you will gain views and replies on the thread.. or some people will just message you without ever leaving a response on your thread. You can bump your thread for 50 bytes per bump, that's another way to gain a little more visibility.

A great product will sell itself.

So, trust your product. An upgrade is definitely worth it though!

I feel your pain, BHW is quite easy to navigate I guess. Here look totally different from the usual.

Yeah exactly, and rules are apparently quite different too.

Maczoot8 - April 22, 2025, 3:50 am

Yeah not eBay good thing there's no fees

SpiritualDose - April 22, 2025, 4:54 am

I believe you need to be upgraded or vendor to post in specific marketplace categories. But there's no fee associated with posting or selling
