We all have the rare day where you get so sick you don't want to play games, get on the computer etc. You just need to lay in bed/the couch.

That was me yesterday and without hesitation I put on Monty Python and the Holy Grail then Spaceballs to fall asleep to which got me 10 hours that I needed to heal.

Also most movies, I do not like to watch twice, except those and a couple others.

Do you have any movies you consider repeatable or watch when you are useless for a day?

Harry Potter movies, and Back to the future too

I think I kinda miss the old Marvel movies (since Disney bought the licence it's not the same thing anymore I think)

Ah yeah, Harry Potter is a staple in my house as well.my five year old has started to ask to watch it from time to time and I love that.

I agree on the old marvel movies. The OGs are great.

I often go back to O Brother Where Art Thou, or Interstellar.

I use to do a pie of pizza and put on some Goodfellas if it's a do-nothing type of day.

Sopranos (honorable mention)

Step Brothers

This is the End

Wolf of Wall St

40 year old virgin

Comedies for the most part are my comfort

Damn Goodfellas is a great movie. I need to watch it again soon. And I hope it's a meatlovers pizza.
