

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: Tor related FAQ \(Begginers\)

0-0_isRich - April 27, 2025, 3:04 am

- 1) Is Tor actually anonymous? I know it would take more resources to track someone who is using Tor but what are some things, that if you did them, you would probably become a target and get caught?
- 2) What are some rules you should follow when using Tor to actually be safe?
- 3) What are the top uses for Tor browser? (I understand the general consensus but what are some specific things one would use Tor for)
- 4) I know people use Tail OS for anonymity and i was wondering how someone like that can be tracked, is it even possible if you use Tail for everything? (Considering it always routes traffic through Tor and is used with different computers each time)
- 5) How can you use Tor to get in contact with other hackers and how can you know if someone is trying to scam you or not?

In general i have used Tor in the past. However if you dont have specific onion links to go to everything seems extremely untrustworthy if you want to buy stuff and just use the hidden wiki.

If you have answers for even one of the questions above feel free to answer, also for other begginres, you can ask related questions abput Tor and anonymity mostly.