Thread: Earn money by reselling AliExpress products through Marketplace in South America

terry_1482 - April 28, 2025, 7:40 pm

Basically, choose products with the "choice option" and low prices, using the app with the "similar items" option, and view those not sold in your territory through the most popular sales sites in your country. The profit margin using all that is approximately $10 per product. It may not be enough for me, but the good thing is that it's just the beginning of my strategy, which I'll be implementing in the coming days, depending on the results I get. If you'd like me to share more information about my next steps or help me with certain bugs to maximize my profits with AliExpress or another international website operating in South America, I'd be happy to hear from you. I'll respond and keep you updated with everything I want to do. Best regards.
