Thread: SKULL - My love & respect to you always!

The Joker - May 2, 2025, 7:49 am

Hello all,

Just noticed skull's post in a 1k giveaway thread HERE.

He makes an entry to the Giveaway, but asks the prize to be given to me if.

I'm humbled and honoured at the same time. Can't think of a thing I did to deserve this love. No words to describe how I feel.

May the world be filled with loving people like skull! God bless!

Spoiler (Click to View) P.S. : I have changed my signature showing my gratitude towards his gesture.

One time skull ran into a burning building to save my dogs. His eyebrows got burnt off. But he did it out the kindness of his heart.

Love you always.

Did he remember to get dear old granny out of the burning building as well?

That's genuinely wholesome — gestures like that remind you there's still good out there. Shoutout to Skull for the kindness!

Skull seems like a genuine guy thus far. I love his ideas he's got going and making for HF :)

Do you always walk around with a roll of toilet paper.

I mean, 1000 Bytes isn't much. Probably like $2 worth of bytes. But taking the effort to make an entry but asking the prize to be given to someone else is something I've never heard before. That too, when you have spoken only for like a couple of times.

In a world full of hate and scams, we need more people who show love and I'm not ashamed of expressing my gratitude when I come across one mate. Cheers!

What a incredible nice thread!

It is totally my pleasure, and feels even better about doing such action, when this is what I get in return.

Respect to you, for the returned respect. <3
