This is great however one thing to add, to get your books published to amazon, they are strict about AI so you gotta be sneaky with that but thanks for the sauce!

There are plenty of easy ways to get around Amazon's filters, bro, or just use other platforms like social media to sell directly.

This is a very good guide.
Could make someone a lifetime of profit.

You could even publish then and sell in childrens stores if you have the funds.

Most of the stories are outside of copyright anyway, the old ones at least.
But don't be handing them outside of schools please.... lol

Also if ChatGPT translates badly and people complain your Amazon account will be banned. That has happened with people trying to use translating software to sell books on Amazon in the past.
Still an interesting offer.

About sales on Amazon and other platforms. It's true that many accounts are being banned for this, but it's actually very easy to get past those verifications.

I'll post soon a program I created especially for this, but I've still been testing it for some time, and so far it works good. Still, I don't want to say it's 100% until I know for sure. For now, it works good, I'm still testing it along with 4 other friends.

I've sold on Etsy for years and I've also tried selling AI generated content on there (before AI was as big as it is now) and I'll be amazed if you even manage to make $100 doing this.

Hi mate,

Yes, mostly by AI. Also you can take a single story and use AI to expand it into a much longer one. All the stories also come with images.

Why would you think I'd be upset if you mention AI? These days, if we don't use AI, those of us who are getting a bit older will end up falling behind in technology and everything else! ?

I sent it to you just so you could have a look.
