Everywhere i read there is more and more good news and everyone stating everything is about to explode eth and alts.

what do you think?

Mewtwo - May 14, 2025, 10:39 am

Hmmm. I haven't seen BTC surpass 106k yet. Until I see it go past this, I don't know if the market will be bullish.

DramaKing - May 14, 2025, 11:19 am

I've read that stable coins are projected to grow significantly.

If we're to believe that crypto is cyclical, then we're nearing the end of this cycle and we may see a bit of a crypto winter entering 2026, which historically lasts about 2 years.

I'll be taking profits as we enter Q4 unless there are strong signals compelling me to stay heavily invested.

Bullup - May 14, 2025, 12:18 pm

We've been in bull market for a long time now actually... the question is, when is it gonna end. Most likely around Q4 as SUI-3183372 mentioned above, pretty reasonable.

I do think we're entering alt season now tho.

Agreed but there is always the exception and cycle-breaker. Potentially the whole Covid, Ukraine War, and even US election may have potentially delayed this Bull Run.

It's actually pretty positive were back over $100k BTC. I was expecting higher price earlier and then dips lower than what we are now.

Costanza thinks we're going Bull, I think we mostly been in it for the past year or so. Maybe the days of 10-25x gains is coming to an end though and we'll just start to see normal 2-3% days building up over time.

I just hold my Bitcoin and wait so bull run or not doesn't effect me very much.

Btc hit 108k a little while ago.

Costanza - May 19, 2025, 9:45 am

Me buying the ada bag was the worst thing i have ever done should of pulled out last week when i was even fuck.

Mewtwo - May 19, 2025, 10:59 am

Rn just seeing the bull trying to break open at $107k. There seems to be a resistance at this price. If we can break through ATH, then there is still some hope for a bull market in place. Otherwise, if this is the highest we will go, expect a slowly painful of losses in the coming weeks and months.

Braco22 - May 19, 2025, 11:17 am

I personally think we'll get rejected on the first try to break the 109k, and we may fall to 95k even but it will be shortly outlived. The moment we cross 109k, within 1 week we'll rally close to 120-125k. The ALTs will lag behind, so when BTC is at 115-118k I think that's when we'll see parabolic movement of the ALTs.

Only Bitcoin remains the true bull, hitting ATH still. 2-3% profits all adds up. If OP put all his bag into Bitcoin, he would've gained a great profit now. Just takes patience.

Yesterday BTC hit ATH. Exactly what are you saying?

UNKNOWN1 - May 23, 2025, 2:38 pm

Can I get refunded for my BTC award? It worth so much now damn

I'll send a request to the places I sent it and ask them if they reimburse me at 2021 prices.

Probably referring to the European getting 50% tariffs and iPhone at 25%. Just a market shakeup. I wouldn't be surprised about the 90 day deadline and Trump repeating the cycle again

MoonlightMile - May 25, 2025, 12:10 pm

$1m BTC is coming. It's all we've ever dreamed about. Don't fade your one chance to rewrite your sad history.
