BYD is not doing bad so far.

What do you think? Which one do you prefer?

I would say Tesla because their activities are not limited to EV, but also includes robots which will be a huge market in the next years I think, but also things such as energy (solar panel, batteries, super chargers), auto-pilot (cyber cab).

Don't want to spit on BYD, but it's Chinese ... let's see how it's going after the vehicles go beyond 100.000km (60.000miles), I've heard a lot of bad things about Xiaomi cars that lot of people compared to the Porsche Taycan ...

EDIT : I've actually sold my Tesla stock at 300 because I thought it couldn't go up due to the "bad" results, but sounds I was wrong. When it goes down I'll definitely re-buy

I agree but the future is so unpredictable. Tesla is an popular brand unlike BYD but it is growing very fast and could surprise us one day.
