Thread: What can I do to make \$5-10/Day Passively?

JNath - May 24, 2025, 9:52 am

Hello everyone, right now I'm generating $300/month passively by renting out my property and interest from banks on my capital. I want to increase this $300 to $500 per month by making an additional of $200/month.

I was wondering what method or services I can start to make passive income of $5-10/day. I can invest a grand or two to start some service or anything which can make me this amount.

This $500/month would be apart from the money I make from where I spend my time like working with adult niche etc. I have lot of free time in my hands as I only work an hour or two in a day on my gigs.

A little bit boring way, but currently $2,753 invested in $MSTY can get you roughly $10 a day (depending on volatility/premiums generated). Alternatively less risky options for cashflow I've been using: $8,312 in $QDTE, $11,756 in $XDTE. They're covered call funds. I reinvest the distributions to scale my income each month, or reinvest into other income-generating instruments (money market funds, real estate investment trusts, structured credit instruments)

well maybe you can try affiliate marketing and use the organic content strategy

For this you need to choose a niche like : wealth ,relationship ,manifestation ,lose weight etc then you need to find an affiliate offer related to your niche and you can search on clickbank.com or search on google

Then you start creating helpful content on a platform like youtube ,or a blog ,social media ,short form content etc

If you add value and help people ,you can recommend your affiliate offers to people and also link them in your bio ,description ,inside article ,where its the case

WHen someone buys you get a comision
