Thread: Physical & eSIM Delivery - T-Mobile Towers - 5G - Cellular Plans

Oxycodone - May 27, 2025, 10:16 pm

Contracts through HF Only. Accept Payments via PayPal, or Crypto. Other payments can be discussed with me.

I'll send you everything you need once payment is confirmed.

Physical SIM's can be sent incase eSIM Doesn't work for your device.

Additional Add-Ons can be purchased through your account upon activation such as roaming and additional data.

This is only for 1st time customers, your renewal price if you decide to keep the service after the initial period is going to be

15$ a month for 3GB x 3 months = 45$ (1st time customers is 20$ through this promotion)

15$ a month for 3GB x 6 months = 90$ (1st time customers is 35$ through this promotion)

25$ a month for 10GB x 6 months = 150$ (1st time customers is 75$ through this promotion)

I'll leave 1 vouch copy available, DM me, leave a review once you're activated, and another after you use it for a week or so about the quality of service.

I hope you don't mind, but I used this thread to teach conflict resolution to the new users in the chat. Looks like an interesting product though, good luck with sales mate.

Ultimately, if the threads aligned (see what I did there—threads / posts? ??) and mine ended up starring in your Conflict-Resolution 101 lecture, maybe the universe is hinting at a grander “post-conflict” solution. (Yep, posts / threads.. I'll show myself out...)

As for those shiny new members we got over there, if the only conflict they're facing is sky-high phone bills, allow me to broker peace—cheap cellular service right this way. This thread might just resolve some of your expenses .

Thank you!

Thank you for workin with me.

His device, was a Google Pixel 5, sadly the eSIM after multiple attempts wouldn't push to his device. I kept trying, and this great customer worked with me and we troubleshooted this issue to really pinpoint the problem. The issue is with the support of Google & The Mobile carrier itself. The physical SIM card would have worked, but in this situation he was mainly looking to stick with eSIM only, and not acquire a physical SIM. With that being said, I did my best to find a solution, although we used a different carrier than expected, we ended up getting him a 3 Mint Mobile phone plan, and I plan to follow up to ensure he gets upwards of 6 months of service as he initially was inquiring about when we first came into contact.

Is it just data or phone and SMS?

Oxycodone - May 31, 2025, 11:00 am

SMS / Unlimited Talk & Text with various data plans.

DramaKing - June 10, 2025, 2:19 pm

My phone doesn't support eSIM, and I didn't receive a physical SIM. Didn't want to nag as it was a vouch copy, so I gave up.

We can try it before you buy it. If it doesn't its free. Worse case you can purchase international add-on for cheap to make it work. Will maintain a US number. Either way, we can do it for free, and best case, if you're happy with the service, you can leave a tip but it wont be expected or required. More so interested in the outcome of the result. If that's fine with you, telegram is @Dhavok .

I know they have a international add on, you can purchase to use it roaming, other then that I am unsure. As i said previosuly, this extends to anyone. Feel free to message me, we can try to see if it works on your device and if it lets you use it without paying the additional add-on costs, if it works but doesn't let you use it unelss you have the add-on, you can choose to pay for the add-on if youd like, and then it should work. I wont charge anything, just ask for a review if it works out well or if it doesnt so others know what does or what doesnt work.
