Price depends upon the stars order

I really dont understand this latest trend of not providing prices on the thread. If they depend on the number of stars then give a list of amount brackets like 1-50 stars cost X$, 51-500 stars cost Y$ and so on.

This isn't a facebook page where you are selling stuff and competitors will find out your prices and push you out of business. If a person has been on HF for a while, chances are high they can find out the prices of a product of service on multiple platforms in a minute or two.

That's the same price if I were to purchase directly from telegram. I just assumed you were selling stars at discount.
