

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: Elon Twitter Crashout, Claims Trump Is In Epstein Files

Kaleb - June 5, 2025, 1:19 pm

For the supporters and ex supporters, that your boys are falling out what are you going to say. Back when Elon was receiving insane amounts of hates from the left for DOGE, and peoples hesitancy to have billionaires so heavily involved in government (stop with lobbying, he gave Elon his own department), and you all had to find ways to defend it, why is he actually a bad guy now. Also why is he saying Trump's in the Epstein files!?!

(sorry idk how to embed X posts or if its possible)

<https://x.com/elonmusk/status/1930703865801810022>

Okay I was going to post more but hes going ballistic and tweeting literally like 10 tweets an hour and I can't find the juicy ones lol.

I've brought this point up and I'll continue to bring it up. Do you know anyone in your life that has as many people around them that they shed because they either end up falling out, going to jail, getting fired / cut off by said person?

Do you recall any past presidents having such significant amounts of people around them outright falling out with them and saying yeah fuck that guy, he always sucked, I was using him, or multiple members of their cabinet and campaign team going to jail? Do you think its more likely Trump is the first real president ever and that's why this is happening, or its more likely hes just a toxic loser who can't run a country?

Biggy - June 5, 2025, 1:38 pm

At this point, our country is just a comedy show.

That's all I have to say.

Kaleb - June 5, 2025, 1:47 pm

(Jun 5, 2025 01:38 PM)Biggy Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) At this point, our country is just a comedy show.

That's all I have to say.

It sure is. I'm mostly interested in hearing from MAGA people (I'm not saying that as in, I don't appreciate your reply ?). I'm just very curious what they're going to say, particularly those that were defending Elon as recently as probably 3 weeks ago.

DramaKing - June 5, 2025, 1:55 pm

Top post had a Grok response saying that Trump wasted in Epstein's flight logs and that the White House revealed it to show that nothing was hidden. First Elon leaves DOGE to get back to work and now this? Is he just miffed about government spending?

And I've seen what members of his cabinet and staff were arrested for. Sometimes he surrounds himself with bad people, but Joe Biden was one of the most corrupt US presidents.

Yin Yang - June 5, 2025, 2:03 pm

Everything is dumping bc of this, Wild

Prepper - June 5, 2025, 2:19 pm

This is getting even more interesting as time goes on, Trump literally just cost the USA the Dragon spacecraft now due to his threats towards Elon, this is a big hit on our space programs.

I do not like Elon as a person but SpaceX is a great company and very important, Tesla paved the way for the electric vehicle push, Trump is ruining all of it.

I genuinely hope this opens the eyes of MAGA and they use this opportunity to do right and they say enough is enough and call for the impeachment of Donald Trump, do not continue to be brainwashed.

Goku - June 5, 2025, 2:42 pm

(Jun 5, 2025 01:38 PM)Biggy Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) At this point, our country is just a comedy show.

That's all I have to say.

Sorry, but, US of A has always been a comedy show.

CG_G - June 6, 2025, 12:33 am

Don't think Elon really outed him as it was assumed and they'd been photographed together anyway. Just another excuse to dump the market and buy low :D

Like a couple of 5 year olds

Cooligan - June 6, 2025, 1:31 am

Yes, there is another presidency that is just as divisive and chaotic as Trumps. Let's go back to the wild west days of 1865-1869.

Also Kaleb - you can embed an X post/video with the [x]<tweet-URL>[/x] MyCode tag.

AI Quote: The U.S. presidency that best fits the criteria besides Donald Trump*—one that involved extreme controversy, cabinet falling-outs, bitter inner-party disputes, and national division—is Andrew Johnson (1865–1869).

Here's why Johnson stands out:

? Andrew Johnson – The Most Contentious Post-Civil War President

? Cabinet Conflict:

Johnson inherited Abraham Lincoln's cabinet but quickly clashed with nearly all of them. Most infamously, he tried to fire Secretary of War Edwin Stanton—a move that directly violated the Tenure of Office Act and led to Johnson's impeachment.

His relationship with other key figures like Secretary of State William Seward was often strained despite occasional cooperation.

? Inner-Party Divisions:

Johnson, a Democrat, had been added to Lincoln's ticket in 1864 as a gesture of wartime unity.

After Lincoln's assassination, Johnson became president, but his lenient Reconstruction policies enraged Radical Republicans in Congress. He vetoed key civil rights bills (like the Civil Rights Act of 1866), only for Congress to override him—a rare and humiliating rebuke.

? National Division:

His policies worsened tensions between North and South during the volatile Reconstruction era. He opposed the 14th Amendment, which granted citizenship to former slaves, and frequently used racist rhetoric.

He was the first president to be impeached, though he narrowly avoided removal by one Senate vote.

? Honorable Mentions (but not as extreme):

1. Richard Nixon (1969–1974)

Watergate scandal caused resignations (e.g., Attorney General, White House counsel) and a total collapse of trust.

Ultimately resigned under threat of impeachment.

Deepened partisan mistrust, but didn't have the same level of in-party conflict—his party mostly stood behind him until the end.

2. John Tyler (1841–1845)

Alienated both Whigs and Democrats.

Vetoed Whig economic bills -> His whole cabinet (except Daniel Webster) resigned in protest.

Was expelled from the Whig Party while still in office—unprecedented.

3. James Buchanan (1857–1861)

Presided over a deeply fractured country just before the Civil War.

Sided with the South, enraged Northern Democrats.

Accused of failing to stop Southern secession and being ineffective in managing the crisis.

? Conclusion:

Andrew Johnson takes the top spot (after Trump) for:

Most severe breakdown with his own party Most cabinet conflict leading to impeachment

Most damaging presidency in terms of post-war national unity

Regarding presidential infighting and national division, Johnson is the goldmine.

Mewtwo - June 6, 2025, 4:00 am

It was bound to happen soon, you really think trump and Elon will get along together and agree with every single idea? Nope. There's always going to be disagreements. Two different business guys with different mentality. The only difference: Trump has power. He does whatever the fuck he wants to do. Elon musk is just the asskisser getting fucked in the ass

Prepper - June 6, 2025, 7:22 am

I posted before on here that both Trump and Elon are two big egos that will not get along and look what happened. I believe come 2026 Republicans will severely lose the midterms and Trump will be impeached now especially after continuing to see more and more MAGA turn against Trump.

I also think Elon will likely fund Democrats to win just as he funded Trump to win, lets be real as much as I do not like Elon as a person he is right in saying Trump would have lost if not for him.