Product description

? Licensed account of the DisneyPLUS video service with a paid subscription
? Additionally, other content may be present - purchased paid films, etc.)
? The account may have a subscription for a smaller number of days, but then it will have an auto-renewal subscription.
To avoid blocking (code), you need a "clean IP" USA

? Subscription period: 1 year

?By purchasing a Disney subscription, you get unlimited access to all films marked with a blue "By subscription" banner. In this catalog, you will find the best films and series of recent years and can watch them without ads in excellent quality.

?Disney Plus is an online cinema, where more than 60,000 licensed films, cartoons, programs, and programs for children are presented.

Subscription { } opens access to paid content, which presents a huge number of the most modern cartoons and all this without advertising.

?Disney Plus can be watched on TVs that support the Smart TV function, as well as on computers, mobile phones, tablets and game consoles. In addition to Disney films and TV shows, users will have access to products from the Pixar studio, the National Geographic channel, the Marvel cinematic universe, episodes of Star Wars and the entire library of The Simpsons.

? Advantages of the service:

The service specializes in the main Disney entertainment brands included in Walt Disney Studios (Walt Disney Pictures, Walt Disney Animation Studios, Pixar, Marvel Studios, Lucasfilm, Disneynature) and presumably National Geographic. The service will operate in parallel with the Hulu OTT service, 60% of which is owned by Disney. Bob Iger has stated that Disney will focus on family entertainment (there will be no R-rated movies on the service), while Hulu will continue to focus on "generalist" programming.

The service is expected to have approximately 7,000 episodes of television programming and 500 movies. The Walt Disney Studios library that will be available to watch on the service will reportedly include Disney and Pixar animated films, Disney films, the Marvel Cinematic Universe, and Disneynature. National Geographic Channel content will also be available on the service.
