Thread: [H\] Regularly Bank Transfers \[N\] A way to get them to USDT cheap](#)

Goat - June 11, 2025, 7:16 am

Hey everyone,

I'm looking for some guidance on converting regular bank transfers into USDT. The funds are fully legal and traceable, with documentation to prove the source. I receive between $20k to $70k per month, and I'm exploring efficient and cost-effective ways to convert this into USDT while avoiding fees.

Thanks in advance for any advice or suggestions!

I'm open to discussing a percentage-based incentive for your help or ongoing support, if anyone has experience with this or can offer a working solution.

Cheers,

Goat

You can always go through an exchange like me using Zelle.

Large amounts will lower the exchange rate.

I have a share in an exchange and if you can do kyc, i can get the job done.

But i will do only large amounts over 5k
