Thread: X Account Unsuspended

Omniscient - June 19, 2025, 9:32 am

I requested my account back at X yesterday. And I'm back. Immediately paid $400 for annual Premium upgrade.

So that's a win for today.

The Joker - June 19, 2025, 9:35 am

Nice! I wish life was this simple.!

Good days ahead everyone!

Hero - June 19, 2025, 9:35 am

Can you do weekly posts with your favorite member? That would be cool ngl

Condoms - June 19, 2025, 9:40 am

What do you plan on doing with your account, now that it is unsuspended?

I do wish they would unsuspend my old account that got hacked.

Kinda miss having a account that is older than Elon Musk.. From the 2008/2009 range. >_<

Gonna stay away from the topics that aren't HF related. Try to use it to post about HF. Use it to inform people about new features, downtime, and other HF related material.

And my account is July 2009.

Goods - June 19, 2025, 10:06 am

Glad to see you got it back. What was the reason for the suspension if you don't mind me asking?

Hard to say but fairly sure I was targeted intentionally by an ex-member who threatened it. Probably reported one or more of my posts as harassment. I played it pretty close to the edge for a while. I didn't really give a fuck if it got shut down. Wouldn't cry about it if I didn't get it opened either. Had a backup account with 1k followers I was gonna use if I wasn't unsuspended. Is what it is.

Gonna really toy around with Grok now, seems good.

Why did it get banned at the beginning? Edit* Scrolled down and seen it addressed.

Never had an X account, Insta has always been my go to!

Banned about 18 months ago. And I don't specifically know why.

well glad to hear about this.

You did mention it but I wouldn't of guessed you weren't successful by the replies.

Congrats!!

HF is rising

ro0ti - June 19, 2025, 10:44 am

Glad you got the account back, That is definitely a win day! Anyway I will be following so I can be up to date on the Hackforums news.

Mix - June 19, 2025, 11:02 am

Big win the HF account to be back, Remember seeing a lot of good updates and heads up, even wise topics on there when it was twitter.

Nostre - June 19, 2025, 11:04 am

X is the best social media platform IMHO. Welcome back.

skull - June 19, 2025, 11:08 am

Maybe we can all contribute with some content worth posting to X? Maybe to add some engagement and attract new users.

I was already planning on making something for TikTok to hopefully attract members to the community, but will be after my vacation

TikTok's not gonna bring anyone to HF, totally different audience over there.

X is definitely the better bet if you're looking to promote on social media.

Prettykitty - June 19, 2025, 11:23 am

Oh that's nice you got it back.

Not related but I also just noticed Pump.fun also got their handle back too

Elue - June 19, 2025, 12:09 pm

That's a power move—back and Premium in one shot. ?

Glad to be back myself too on HF... feels like the universe hit "undo" for both of us. ?

Congrats on getting the account back. You're more then likely right about it being a targeted removal, there are X ban services floating around out there. Getting the account verified was definitely a power move, as the account will now be 10x harder for someone to ban under false pretenses. Not much of an X user myself, but happy to know that you got it back.

Sam - June 20, 2025, 3:16 am

It's kind of ridiculous that you have to pay that much just to get a verified profile, especially since it used to be free. Then again, I'm not too familiar with what X Premium offers nowadays, as a lot seems to have changed.

Hopsin - June 20, 2025, 3:34 am

Will it be used only for announcements?

I had paid for the Verification before when I got suspended. So not sure that really protects accounts.

And indeed I got my official Blue Checkmark back as well.

I may need to update my profile some to reflect HF new changes.

X is amazing. But sure, if you're done with it, go live your life. I just think it's the best platform with the most engagement. Nothing is perfect but X sure is pretty close. I wasn't even hating on X when I got suspended, had other accounts.

I actually closed a few Twitter accounts before Musk bought it. Those clowns ran it like shit with all their censorship. Under Musk, I consider it a more fair platform when it comes to hot debate issues.

This is wrong, TikTok has a huge 'tech-hack' community. There's just nothing really interesting or cool on HF anymore. There needs to be more interesting content being made here. Not 6 page long essays/tutorials.

And the fact most people are openly homophobic and hateful will also push away the new generation and new users completely. I'm gay and I'm constantly biting my tongue at the amount of hateful/spiteful shit people post on here. Basically a lighter version of 4chan /pol/ and /b/ now instead of a hacking/tech forum, and I'm not pushing for this to be some SJW paradise, but maybe a more neutral place where people aren't openly attacked for existing.

Oh no! You're on the internet and someone might make fun of you! Quick, get back to your SAFE-SPACE.

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=6299640>

Also, nobody knows you're gay on the internet unless you tell them. I don't know if members are male, female, gay, teenagers, old, ethnicity, religion, or any of that. If you go around telling everyone then expect something in return. Nobody gives a fuck about your sexual habits on a hacking forum.

People make fun of each other. Sadly snowflakes ruin the fun.

Just incredible.

I love making fun of people, that's not what some of the members are doing here though. No one is asking for safe-space, wild behaviour to sperg out like this over someone saying they're gay. Look at my posts, tell me which ones I have said I'm gay besides the one in this post. I make fun of everyone.

Can I ask why you care so much if someone is gay?

and I don't care, I really fucking don't. All I said is no one from TikTok is going to come here if its full of hate.

Jimmie - June 20, 2025, 11:29 am

I highly doubt twitter just randomly banned the HF twitter I can almost guarantee you a member here did it some how.

It's the internet. You'll find this anywhere you go, you should know this.

Not to mention, I can almost guarantee you most people are not homophobic. IRL I crack jokes all the time but I'm the furthest from racist or homophobic.

You've been here for awhile, so I assume you're a little older. I'm surprised you have to be told this.

I doubt it. I think there's a lot of people here that are interested to learning new things. It's not just hacking a computer but a place where people can bounce ideas off each other and talk on conceptual ideas. It's a good place to start to learn anything. I mean we have a cooking section and sections in other aspects of just living like health hacks.

What you're not used too is that the internet used to be a place that anything goes. There was no censorship and no being but hurt allowed.

The internet allowed anything to go on. It's developed to now anything said online if it's taken the wrong way someone needs to call the admins, their ISP, their local police to stir some kind of new drama.

I actually like 4chan and the reason not because the hate but because you can post almost anything without stepping on egg shells.

I use Gab for that same reason. Can go post anything I want. There is a freedom that's lost on most of the internet because of people who want everywhere to be a safe space from being offended.

I think my generation just doesn't give a fuck about hurting feelings. Maybe that's why their kids all want these safe spaces from their parents. :) We're gonna say some shit you don't like and might make you cry. And we'll laugh at you when you do.

The whole "politically correct" and "safe space" shit is all Marxist ideology.

AI Quote: The phrase "politically correct" has a long and evolving history, but its modern usage emerged prominently in the late 1980s to early 1990s in the United States.

Key milestones:

Early 20th century:

The term appeared in Marxist and leftist circles, often used ironically to describe strict adherence to party ideology ("the politically correct line").

1960s–70s (U.S.):

Some leftist and feminist groups used the term semi-seriously to emphasize inclusive or anti-oppressive language, though it was still often tongue-in-cheek.

Late 1980s–early 1990s:

The phrase entered mainstream discourse in American universities and politics, often used pejoratively by conservatives to mock progressive language reforms and identity politics (e.g., renaming groups, avoiding offensive terms).

1991:

A New York Times article and other media coverage widely criticized "political correctness" in academia, helping to popularize the term nationwide.

So while the phrase existed earlier, its cultural impact and widespread recognition as a loaded term really began around 1990–1991.

I get it that TikTok might not bring too many people. If you're the type of person to use TikTok, then HF's format might not be much of a draw. We're more like Reddit than TikTok with posting activity and not feeds of videos. But it's worth trying still imho because you never know.

Yes, that's what I meant you really do never know. It's still a group of people where the odd one would be intrigued.

I had a two month ban from Twitter in 2020 for making a lame joke about Blue Lives Matter and Smurfs which they said was hate speech. Not joking. And I also lost my appeal on that which they claimed would be looked at by a real person. Lol
