This person is a scammer, he scammed me and did not deliver the product i purchased from him and when i complained about it, he thought it would be better to teach me manners so he took away my money left me with no product.

The website the things are offered on all offer false information, fake reviews because the real ones get deleted. ive tried purchasing 2 products where the first one said "instant delivery" i only recieved it 2 hours later when i spammed the "live support" which was an ai. second product was youtube premium to which whatever got delivered didnt work and the seller refused to refund me saying i shouldve read the terms and services (the registration process mentions nothing about accepting it)

i advice everyone to find another seller if you would like to keep your money
