Just launched a clean 1-product Shopify store, no ads, no apps, just a solid layout and good product copy. Got 2 orders in 3 days using only free traffic.

I didn't follow the typical YouTube mess. I used Figma to plan the layout, focused on problem-solving products, and made the site conversion-ready from day one.

If you're stuck trying to launch your store or not sure where to start, pm me, I'll show you the exact process I used. No fluff.

Used it at a company I worked for a few times.

Was my reaction after they told me to use it. Same meeting they kept bringing up how our gaylords keep getting damaged ?

Figma even started writing code now, a huge update came out recently. My guess is you'll find more people using it soon. ?

sadly can't pm you, pretty interested though - how did you manage to get sales through free traffic?

What are some beneficial alternatives to Figma if it's too time-consuming to learn and figure out a way around that software? I prefer something free as well. It sounds good on paper to be efficient at Figma, but the reality is, it's a little difficult to figure out. I would appreciate your honest thoughts on this based on your raw experiences.
