Thread: Group's convo notifications

I'm not sure if I've missed a setting or something. Can we get a option to have notifications when there's new messages within your group convo?

Example: new message in warriors group chat.

Yes it is on Omni's roadmap, and he will add this setting.

Yes! This is a must, without this, group convos are close to death.

First I have to add the setting and then the function to the feature but yes, it's coming.

Looking forward to having that feature in the foreseeable future.
