Thread: Hi everyone! A little welcome game - what would you take to a desert island?

Ckrosson - July 11, 2025, 3:44 am

Hey everyone,

I'm saying hello as a new user. Instead of a long intro, here's a short challenge: name 3 items that best describe your passions and who you are.

For me, it would be: a volleyball, a hatchet, and a hammock.

What are your 3 items? I'm curious to see your creative answers!

PvtPartz - July 11, 2025, 3:53 am

A fork, milk and some antacid

Thanks for the reply. It's funny, I wouldn't have thought of milk:)

Welcome. The three items that define me are: climbing gear, a laptop for bug hunting, and a Red Team badge. And you?

LOUTTON - July 12, 2025, 7:03 am welcome to the forums.

3 name items that cross on my mind right now are money, sleep and breakfast.

Welcome to the forum!

The 3 things I'll take to a desert island are,

1. A survival kit like the one HERE.
2. Scarlett Johansson (If she's busy, a pocket pussy would do. I'll use my imagination.)
3. A cordless power tools set with solar generator (Panels, Batteries, etc.)

Trust me. I'll be the king of the island with these.

You would be the king of the island if you take Scarlett Johansson alone, pretty specific pick tho lol, you thought this through before havent you ?

PBR 184 case – Because what's survival without a cold beer to celebrate not dying?

Huge survival kit – So I don't end up looking like a reality show contestant trying to build a shelter with sticks.

A boat – My emergency "I've had enough of coconuts and bugs" getaway ride.

Good picks, wont survive long if i dont have a beer to relax after a hard day working or something like that, and a boat is something i genuinly havent thought about, might just go away when i dont want to be there anymore lol

Exactly! A cold beer at the end of a long day just makes everything better, even if you're stuck on an island. And yeah, the boat is the ultimate backup plan, survive for a bit, enjoy the view, and when it gets boring, just sail out like a boss. ?

I would imagine that as a perfect Vacation, you strand on the planet have a few chill days eating what you can find and relaxing at the Beach with a Beer in the hand looking into the evening and stars at night, after that you just go home refreshed and happy haha

Absolutely! The boat has plenty of room. I'll grab some more beer. :)

If we all get 3 items, we should be able to make that place a paradise. What kind of beer you bringing? I'll bring some steaks, and we can grill out too

I love this! I can drink any beer; I'm not picky. Jesus, might as well bring the families now, lol.

Do they all get to bring 3 things with them too? If so, we will be set up to have a good two-week vacation.

MadScientist - July 27, 2025, 9:52 pm

Fishing pole with line, a machete, fire starter perfect survival kit, nothing more needed

GILBERT - July 28, 2025, 1:18 am

I would split the whole HackForums community into three groups, and bring them to the island.

Each group would represent an item.

Then we would all be stuck together. :-)

Your friend Gilberto.

No thank you. If I'm going to be stuck, I might survive with one or two of you guys, but all 10k or whatever the population is, na I don't think I can handle all that.

More meat during the famine! ?

Hahaha ?

I don't know if I should feel insulted. Imagine how much we could learn. It would be like a small country, like Iceland. The tech skills would be high (I guess).

Maybe we would rapidly advance with all the tech geeks gathered in one place.

But then again look at Silcon Valley, nothing too crazy about that place.

Thanks Gilberto but no, some of you all seem a little uncooperative, and won't help the HF society on surviving the Island!

I think I'd go with: Technology, Volunteering and Motorcycles!

K4RM4 - August 15, 2025, 7:28 pm

A fishing pole, a rifle, and a knife. Needless to say I'm into the outdoors.

GILBERT - August 15, 2025, 7:55 pm

I would prefer to get stuck on a dessert island. A desert island just doesn't taste as good. ?

Mmm... stuck on a dessert island. ?
