Thread: SEO Improving

Omniscient - July 16, 2025, 10:12 am

Looks like the past couple months of effort continue to pay off. Just want to share some positives news about our "dying" forums.

The past week there has been a continued increase in Google Search clicks.

That chart is 3 months of clicks. Monday we had a 90-day high of 1230 clicks and past 10 days seeing upswings. Daily registrations going well too. They might not seem higher but they are because I added a hCaptcha to registration which is preventing bot registrations (most of them).

I'll continue to monitor and share SEO info with members.

Thank you.

Any massive changes SEO wise or just the usual, metadata, slight keyword changes. Are you making any adjustments for LFO?

I am hoping AI hacking and prompt hacking will make HF go viral.

Most of it was structural data changes so far. Had to do a couple plugins and some adjustments to get them correct.

Glad to see this Omni, I am not on here much anymore but I remember my younger days and how much time I used to spend reading threads on here.

Here we are about 6 months later. More impressions, more clicks, and better average position.
