Thread: Where to share my training leaks on Hacking Forum

Nauva - July 29, 2025, 1:31 pm

Hey community !

I'm NAUVA, and I want to share premium leaks of training courses in trading (forex, crypto, stocks), e-commerce (dropshipping, Shopify), real estate (investment, property management), mindset, and other business topics. Content is in French and English, including videos, PDFs, and Mega/Google Drive links.

My questions:

Which forum sections are best to post these leaks for max visibility? (e.g., Business, Trading, E-commerce, etc.)

How can I earn points to unlock content or level up? (e.g., likes, comments, forum rules)

Are there specific sections for French vs. English leaks?

Details:

These are high-value premium courses, usually expensive, shared for the community.

I'll include clear instructions (e.g., "Unlock with X points" or access via DM/Telegram).

Call to action :

Thanks for your advice on where to post and how the point system works! Drop a comment or PM me with suggestions. Let's follow forum rules.

Just calling them 'leaks' may get you in trouble. The Help Docs specifically state that leaked content is not allowed like software cracks are not allowed.

Oh, and all posts must be made in English. This is not a multi-language forum.

This would probably be a good question to ask in the Marketplace Discussions area.

I got my answer, I don't have the right to share leaked training.

Maybe try calling it your "findings" rather than leaks
