Thread: happy birthday me! & hello HackForums!

Capps - July 30, 2025, 8:43 am

it's been awhile since I've logged in, figured I should say hello and if the members I once knew are still active!

28 now.

Currently livin it up in Arkansas! It's a great place. A new bass pro is soon to be erected in our city.

Either way, my hackforums brother - please delete this.

I've been informed that I'm a little person.

well I guess 6' 210 lbs is little.

& I've got a blue broken iPhone 12 mini flying around the earth everywhere I go. It's got a white line on the left side. that thing became visible on windows, doors, trees, the sun, the moon, on the lake, license plates, wow you name it.

Well happy birthday my man and may all your wishes come true in this life

Tell us how do you will party today ?

Well lemme mix it up all for you, and us.

I messaged a Dj named Dj Mikey Mike (but also ESPN come up with a "Mike and Mike in the morning") on MySpace around 2007~. He drove a orange Lamborghini and made chopped and skewed music. I said what would it be to travel to the city here and do a show? He said some money. No other comm. but now there is an abandoned club house named "Area 51" in fort smith Arkansas. Barling has a "behavioral health"/mental nut house down by the river, they have orange round seats at the round table. I'd say somebody purchase the concrete factory located next to a casino in pocola Oklahoma, but it's on the arkansas side so be sure that your "party/life" is a complete water full speed drinking party, no yellow pee urine tests.

and also I went to a Algerian/french bakery in town, hung out and had tea (with just a touch(swig) of coffee creamer) & some bakery delights.

Also towards omniscients comment of he drinks the lemon powder for electrolytes, $40 on Amazon, well we have a lemon tree soon to be transferred to the real dirt outside, which i spoke to a single man within a man, who looked like star treks Captain Jean-Luc Picard (Patrick Stewart) and he told me, (keep in mind within a mile from home), told me, "the dirt is a little strange up here/out here", one dirt shovel later, it sure was a little strange or different.

Right! I'm glad to see a few familiar names still on the forum. Now as far as off site, (no technology) sometimes it's better to take ourselves out further than ever before, for a reason I haven't yet reached the understanding of yet.

Haha, honestly I tried to stay away from technology but couldn't manage it.
