- Why do you want the L33T upgrade?

My name is Frankly - formerly the member known as Lowkey.

I believe that I will continue to bring about great things to HF in the future the way I have in the past.

- How will you use it to benefit the forum or community?

Continuing to be a staple of the community and push for good things for forum members + suggestions and contributions that benefit everyone.

Why do you want the L33T upgrade?

I would like the l33t upgrade because I would like to do more with HF, wanted to host a byte contest or quick love a few posts and it would be great to be able to rep and give more back to the community!

Great contest and generosity here though, thanks for hosting.

I want the L33T upgrade because i got scammed by my partners and I'm bankrupt now and unable to afford it.

I can contribute by sharing my experience and skills as I've been in the online space for nearly 2 decades and know some stuff.

Cant swing the $35 for the lifetime and my wife wont let me upgrade as just got meds. Will at some point. Awesome forum. Have been in tech for too many years to count. Instead of just taking I would use the upgrade to contribute equally. Give and take.

My goal is to keep our profession alive. The coin operated machines are going to fast. I fix almost anything electronic, and will share my wisdom. Am guarded and live by a code. By teaching what I know we can keep rocking on and the next generation can be better.

Man there are many people who need an upgrade. Even if I dont get it, I will at some point. Lets keep growing this forum. I like what I have seen so far.

I want the L33T upgrade so I can work my way up to ub3r, I want to become a vendor on this site and sell whitehat services. I am pursuing certifications and look forward to sharing my knowledge with other forum members. I am starting to be more active on here as there is a good plethora of information both old and new. Plenty to learn and plenty to share. I thank you for this opportunity in advance and congratulations to whoever wins. Cheers :)

- Why do you want the L33T upgrade?

I'd love to get rid of the restrictions, opening the site up for me more.

- How will you use it to benefit the forum or community?

I'd contribute in sub-forums in which i can share my knowledge in.

I noticed the giveaway was set to end on 5th August, but the thread is still open.
Just wondering—is the L33T upgrade giveaway still active, or has it already wrapped up?

If it's still running, I'd love to throw my hat in the ring.

Why I want the L33T upgrade:

I've been enjoying the forum and would like to access the extra features and private sections that come with L33T to deepen my participation.

How I'll use it to benefit the community:

I plan to share more tutorials, help answer questions, and contribute useful discussions so the upgrade directly supports the forum's growth.

Thanks for considering my entry!
