Thread: Looking for Real Ways to Make \$500+/Month \(New & Willing to Learn\)

terpsdonuts - July 31, 2025, 9:23 am

I'm new to this kind of stuff and looking for ways to make money online. A friend mentioned e-whoring, but that's just not for me (isn't the market saturated anyway?).

I have a background in CS (not a beginner). I've seen people online talking about selling data breaches, using malware and doing other things to make money.

I've got some free time and I'm looking to make like $500/month if possible, or something in that range. If anyone can suggest the best market to get into, or just the best method for someone starting out, I'd really appreciate it.

Just $500 a month? Have you thought about getting a job using your skills? Or doing freelance work on Fiverr/Upwork/etc?

I'm currently working. I'd also like to work with Fiverr, but I have to become self-employed and it doesn't make sense... I'm looking for other avenues...

Since you can code, why not try bug bounties? It's a grind to start but it's legit money, and $500/month is very doable once you find your niche.

Figure out your skills that have a demand in the market. Then provide those skills in the form of services.

You can try affiliate marketing with short form content

Think of a niche where you have a passion like : dating ,manifestation ,self help ,law of attraction etc

Next find an affiliate offer related to your niche in networks like : clickbank ,digistore or use google

Now create accounts on : insta ,tiktok ,pinterest ,shorts ,facebook reels etc

Optimize the bio of the platforms related to your niche and place the link of your affiliate offer in your bio

Next watch what other people are making and model it using canva ,you can create videos using invideo etc .With time you will became better and better at creating videos

When you create a video upload it on all platforms

As caution : this method its not a quick rich scheme and you cannot expect to use it 1 week and have 500$ monthly fast

Working with organic methods take time to see serious results
