I love hiking and geocaching, especially deep in the woods. It's such a stress reliever and amazing for mental health!

Istvan - August 2, 2025, 7:11 am

I enjoy a lot doing routes in my motorbike alone or with people too (My bike is a Yamaha R7, for that people that is curious), and gym is another hobby that enjoy a lot and helps me to clear my mind, i recommended a lot for those who are always in the PC like me. It helps in the emotional site and personal development. Very nice thread by the way!

Cool bike! I had an R125 a few years back so I can get used to super sports, but I'm tall and it wasn't the most comfortable thing to ride, that's why I moved to 450MT

For sure! Playing pool is such a fun way to just relax and focus at the same time. I love that feeling when you make a tricky shot.

Tricky shots are the only shots I get. I like pool but I'm not good, can't aim at all, so I just hit em hahahaha

Hahaha that's a vibe! Sometimes just smashing the balls around is half the fun anyway. Who needs aim when you've got chaos on your side? ?

What is ur favorite (romantic) movie?

I adore The Grand Budapest Hotel, but for a romance movie I loved Pride and Prejudice 2005 :D

Talking about that, I'm about to watch a movie. Which romance do u recommend?

These two films are Christmas movies but are definitely still considered romantic comedies: The Holiday and Love Actually. Although I watch them multiple times during the Christmas season, I also enjoy them throughout the year.

That's awesome! Carving wood while watching TV sounds like a peaceful vibe. Cool way to unwind and still make something with your hands.

DarkVision - August 6, 2025, 6:00 pm

I've been in love with Sandra Bullock ? since the dawn of time, so I compulsively watch her on repeat.

My poor wall mounted TV is probably going to burn out from looping "While You Were Sleeping" 24/7.

So, programming and watching Sandra Bullock is basically my life. I also love animals, especially cats. ?

Haha that actually sounds like a pretty cozy life, coding, cats, and endless Sandra Bullock movies! While You Were Sleeping is such a classic too. Nothing wrong with looping comfort films, especially when they've got that kind of charm.

Haha, I totally get that! Christmas movies definitely have that cozy, feel-good vibe, even without the romance. There are some good ones that focus more on family or just the holiday spirit. Do you have a favorite type of Christmas movie or rom com?

I think I prefer the classics (Home Alone etc), not the latest crap they release xD
