Thread: New here and just exploring

ronnie420 - August 9, 2025, 3:23 pm

Hey, I saw this site, and there seems to be an abundance of things to do, learn, see and such. as a beginner, where should I start?

Deany - August 9, 2025, 3:26 pm

Hello ronnie420 welcome to HF

Hi there! Welcome to HF mate.

Make sure to read the Help Docs , I'm sure you'll get an idea about how this forum works!

And there is no specific starting point besides that, start exploring!

What would you like to learn about? Did you have anything specific in mind?

Welcome to HF, Ronnie!

Glad to hear that you're finding the forum useful. If you're really enjoying the site, you should think about upgrading your account, so that you can enjoy the forum in its true glory. Being a Regular user is fine and dandy, but when you upgrade you will get to experience the site in a much better light. You will get to have the Leet Userbar attached to your profile on posts, as well as have access to a bunch of other features not available to Regular users. Something to consider.

Lastly, take a few minutes to read over the Help Docs. These are the rules of conduct on HackForums. Following, and abiding by these rules will ensure that you avoid getting any warnings, or possibly having your account closed. Reading the Help Docs will also allow you to learn more about the website in general... check them out!

See you around the site.

Hey there. Nice meeting you.

Welcome to the forum

Oh_Well - August 11, 2025, 2:47 am

Hey Ronnie, did you find anything interesting to read yet?!

Welcome to Hackforums, ronnie420 !

We're glad to have you join our community!

As you start exploring, we highly recommend taking a few moments to familiarize yourself with the forum. These resources will help you get off on the right foot:

Etiquette & Rules:

Read through our Help Docs to understand the forum's rules, etiquette, and features. This will save you a lot of trouble down the line.

Stay Safe! Protect Yourself:

If you plan on buying, selling, or trading on Hackforums, always remember:

Keep all deals on-site. Do not move to Discord, Telegram, or any other platform to finalize deals or discuss them further. If something goes wrong, staff cannot help you unless the full conversation happened here.

Use the Contract System for any deal, big or small. It documents everything and helps prevent misunderstandings.

Use a Free Middleman for added security. Scammers hate middlemen for a reason. Sellers can NOT refuse one!

Never send money or items before verifying a user's reputation. Even then, trust should be earned, not assumed.

If you have questions, Be sure to ask The Academy group! Plenty of members are happy to help.

Enjoy your stay, and again welcome aboard!

As for making money, my advice would be to automate something that people are looking for.
