It's impossible or nearly so. Not without government-level access. Interconnector is the expert on SS7 and everything cellular tracking.

A good mate of mine has said there is a such software that I can download where all I have to do is punch in the opponets mobile number from New Zealand and I will have this guys location...

Can anyone confirm that this is true? And if so, what / where would I find this type of software ?

Thanks in advance

Your friend fell for a scam. Plus, you sound like a stalker. Asking for help with revenge will get you nowhere.

Read my threads about tracking.

Try hit me up with a valid number and let's see.
