I thought you said that he was tech-savvy, not brainless. That must have been masterful social engineering. "Hey, you're going to receive a code from Telegram that tells you not to share it with anyone. I need that to access your account."

oh sorry

I thought u were sarcastic so made same reply

he is tech savy,not willingly upload telegram folder also I guess android has some folder permission thing that one app cant access data of another,right?
